5. Value of Certificates.—Until the 1st January 1924, Ordinary Certificates will entitle the holders to go to sea, in the grades certified, as Engineers of any vessels in the British Mercantile Marine. After that date they will not be available for service in ships propelled by internal combustion engines unless endorsed for the purpose, as provided for in rule 41.

Motor Certificates will entitle the holders to go to sea, in the grades certified, as Engineers of any vessels in the British Mercantile Marine propelled by internal combustion engines using oil, spirit, gas or other similar motive agent; but they are not available for service in steamships unless endorsed for the purpose, as provided for in rule 41.

6. Colonial Local Certificates.—The holder of a Colonial Certificate of Competency not granted under the Merchant Shipping Act, or of a Certificate granted after examination on board one of His Majesty's Ships, who wishes to be examined for a Government of Bengal Certificate of the same grade, must prove that he has performed the amount of service required by these regulations for that grade, and complied with the conditions laid down as to testimonials.

All Colonial Certificates of Competency, whether local or issued under Order in Council, must be given up before a further Certificate is issued by the Government of Bengal.

7. Certificates of Service.—An officer who has attained the rank of Engineer Lieutenant or Engineer Sub-Lieutenant in His Majesty's Navy, or in the Royal Indian Marine, is entitled without examination, if an Engineer Lieutenant, to a Certificate of Service as First Class Engineer, and, if an Engineer Sub-Lieutenant, to a Certificate of Service as Second Class Engineer. These officers may be examined for Certificates of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers in the Mercantile Marine.

An officer who has attained the rank of Chief Artificer Engineer in His Majesty's Navy is also entitled without examination to a Certificate of Service as Second Class Engineer.

8. Examination of Engine Room Artificers.—Artificer Engineers, Chief Engine Room Artificers, Engine Room Artificers, and Mechanicians in the Royal Navy may be examined for Certificates of Competency on the same conditions as Engineers in the Mercantile Marine.

9. Application by Naval Officers.—The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty have directed that applications from officers of the Navy for Certificates of Service, or for permission to be examined for Certificates of Competency, must, in the case of officers on the active list, be made through the Commanding Officer to the Secretary to the Admiralty, and, in the case of officers who are on half-pay or who have retired, direct to the Secretary to the Admiralty, who in either case will forward the applications to the Government of Bengal.

It is not necessary for applications of Chief or other Engine Room Artificers and Mechanicians, who have left the Royal Navy and who desire to be examined for Certificates of Competency as Engineers in the Mercantile Marine, to be forwarded either through their Commanding Officers or through the Admiralty. Men who are still serving in these ratings in the Royal Navy should make their applications through their Commanding Officers.

Artificer Engineers, however, being Warrant Officers, should make their applications in the same manner as that laid down for other officers of the Royal Navy.

10. Time and Place of Examination.—The times and places at which examinations are held are those as from time to time notified in the Calcutta Gazette.

N.B.—The examination days are liable to occasional alteration.

11. Application for Examination.—Every applicant for examination must fill up a form of application (Exn. 3), and pay the appropriate fee, at Port Office, signing the declaration on the form of application in the presence of the Chief Examiner. This must be done at least sufficiently early to ensure the form, properly filled in, together with the applicant's certificate of apprenticeship, testimonials, discharges, etc., being lodged with the Examiner of Engineers not later than the day before the day of examination. At least a week's notice should be given by applicants for Motor Certificates, and these notices must be immediately reported by the Examiners to the Chief Examiner.

The Examiner is, as a rule, responsible for seeing that the applications are in order and that the applicants' qualifications are sufficient, but in special cases, if necessary, before allowing an applicant to sit, he will, after seeing that all the required information is clearly stated in the papers, forward them with his observations to the Shipping Master for the verification of services, or to the Chief Examiner of Engineers for instructions, as the case may require, who will either deal with the case or transmit it to the Government of Bengal for decision.

12. Inquiries.—Persons wishing to inquire as to their eligibility for examination must fill up an application form, submit their papers, and pay the appropriate fee in the same way as applicants for examination.

13. Proof of Nationality.—Every applicant for a Certificate of Competency of any grade will be required to produce proof of nationality.

Proof of British nationality will, in ordinary circumstances, involve the production of a birth certificate or of a certificate of naturalisation. If an applicant for examination cannot produce such a certificate he should be asked to furnish such documentary evidence of nationality, or of birth and nationality of parents, as he may be able to obtain, and, if necessary, the case should be referred to the Chief Examiner for consideration.

If the applicant is not a British subject he will, as a rule, be able to produce some official document testifying to his nationality. If there is any doubt as to the authenticity of such document, the Examiner should consult the nearest Consular Officer of the nation to which the applicant belongs. If necessary, the case should be remitted to the Chief Examiner for consideration.

14. Age.—Should any doubt exist as to the age of an applicant, he will be required to produce a certificate of birth.

15. Fee must be paid.—Applicants for examination, and persons inquiring as to their eligibility for examination, will be required to pay the examination fee before any step is taken towards inquiring into their services or testing their qualifications, etc. If any applicant is found not to be qualified, the fee will either be returned to him or placed to his credit until he is qualified.

16. Payment of Fees, and Penalty for Offering Gratuity.—The fee for examination must be paid to the Port Officer. If an applicant offers a gratuity to any servant of the Department, he will be regarded as having committed an act of misconduct, and will not be allowed to be examined for twelve months, either at the port where the offence was committed or at any other port.

17. Table of Fees.—The following fees, respectively, are payable on each occasion on which an applicant presents himself for examination, either for a Certificate of Competency as Engineer, or for the Endorsement of a Certificate:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Second Class Engineer's Certificate, or its Endorsement ...	20	0	0
First Class Engineer's Certificate, if the applicant holds a valid and appropriate Second Class Certificate of Competency ...	20	0	0
First Class Engineer's Certificate, if the applicant does not hold a Second Class Certificate as above described	40	0	0
Endorsement of First Class Engineer's Certificate, if the applicant previously held a Second Class Certificate appropriate to the Endorsement desired	20	0	0
Endorsement of First Class Engineer's Certificate, if the applicant had not previously held a Second Class Certificate of this description	40	0	0

18. Fees not returned on Failure.—If a candidate fails in his examination no part of the fee he has paid will be returned to him.

19. Sea Service must be Verified.—Service which cannot be verified by proper entries in the articles of agreement of the ships in which the applicants have served cannot be counted. In all cases the applicants' names must have been duly entered on the ship's Articles as Engineers in their proper ranks.

In all cases in which certificates of discharge in the home or other trade which have not been officially issued at a Mercantile Marine Office are produced as evidence of any part of an applicant's qualifying service, they should be submitted to the Shipping Master for verification.

20. Service in Foreign Vessels.—The testimonials of service of foreign or British Engineers serving in foreign vessels, which cannot be verified by the Shipping Master, must be confirmed either by the Consul of the country to which the ship in which the applicant served belonged, or by some other recognised official authority of that country; or by the testimony of some credible person on the spot, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be established. The production, however, of such proofs will not of necessity be deemed sufficient. Each case must be decided on its merits; and if the sufficiency of the proofs given appears to be at all doubtful, the point must be referred to the Chief Examiner.

21. Calculation of Service.—The applicant's service as shown on his discharges should be reckoned by the calendar month, i.e., the time included between any given day in any month and the preceding day of the following month, both inclusive. The number of complete months from the commencement of the period, ascertained in this way, should be computed, after which the number of odd days should be counted. The day on which the agreement commences as well as that on which it terminates should both be included and all odd days should be added together and reckoned at 30 to the month.

22. Gaps in Service.—The Examiner should be particularly careful to ascertain that there are no gaps in the applicant's service during which his conduct is not properly accounted for, before he is allowed up for examination.

23. Testimonials; Workshop Service.—All applicants will be required to produce, in addition to the official discharge certificates, testimonials as to their workshop service and as to their service at sea. The testimonials as to workshop service must be signed by the employer, and must testify to the applicant's conduct and ability, and state what kind of work he was engaged on (e.g., fitting, erecting, turning, machine work, etc.), and for how long. (See rule 42.)

24. Testimonials; Sea Service.—It is desirable that the whole of the applicant's sea service should be covered by testimonials certifying to his sobriety, experience, ability, and general good conduct, but the usual testimonials will be required for at least the last 18 months at sea preceding the date of the application to be examined. They must be signed by the Master and Chief Engineer, or in the case of testimonials to Chief Engineers by the Superintendent Engineer, and must clearly state whether the applicant was on regular watch, and in regular charge of a watch on the main engines or boilers; also, if not engaged on both engines and boilers, the length of time he served on each separately. It is desirable that testimonials should be endorsed by the Superintendent Engineer.

In cases where a testimonial from the Chief Engineer or from the Master is for any sufficient reason not obtainable, one from the Superintendent Engineer or from the Managing Owner, or Secretary, or Chairman of a large company may be substituted; but, in every such instance, the testimonial must declare that the facts stated are in accordance with the reports made by the Chief Engineer, or the Master, as the case may be, or else that they are within the writer's personal knowledge.

If, in any case, testimonials appear to have been withheld for improper or inadequate reasons, full particulars should be reported by the Examiner to the Chief Examiner.

25. Fraud and Misrepresentation.—Any person who makes, assists in making, or procures to be made, any false representation for the purpose of procuring either for himself or for any other person a Certificate of Competency, shall, in respect of each offence, be guilty of a misdemeanour, which is punishable, on summary conviction, with imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labour, or with a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

26. Physical Defects.—When an applicant is observed to be hard of hearing, or is labouring under any other obvious physical defect, the signatories of his testimonials are required to mention that defect specifically, and to state whether it in any way interfered with the efficiency of the applicant as an engineer on watch. When these modified testimonials are such as completely to satisfy the Examiner that the defect is not such as to interfere with the efficient discharge of the applicant's duties as engineer, the examination is proceeded with; otherwise the case is referred to the Chief Examiner. Candidates afflicted with nervous impediment in speech may write their answers to viva voce questions.

27. Penalty for Misconduct.—Applicants who have neglected to join their vessels after having signed Articles, or who have deserted their vessels after having joined, or or who have been found guilty of gross misconduct, will be required to produce satisfactory proofs of two years' subsequent service and good conduct at sea, unless the Government, after having investigated the matter, should see fit to reduce the time. Particulars of all such cases should be referred to the Chief Examiner.

28. Foreign Engineers.—Foreign engineers cannot be examined for a First Class Certificate unless they have performed the sea-service stated in rule 38, with the requisite British Certificate. The service may have been performed in foreign vessels if the applicant can produce satisfactory testimonials as to conduct and character, and is able to prove that the service has been in the required capacities, and that during the period of service he has held a British Certificate of Competency of the grade required by the Regulations (see rule 20).

29. Foreign Engineers must know English.—Foreign engineers must prove to the satisfaction of the Examiners that they can speak and write the English language sufficiently well to perform the duties required of them on board a British vessel.

30. Issue of Certificate.—If the candidate passes he will receive a form (Exn. 16) authorising the Port Officer to whom it is addressed to issue the Certificate. The candidate's testimonials and other papers will be returned to him when the examination is finished. It is therefore important that the port at which the Certificate is to be issued should be the same on both the form Exn. 16 and the form of application, Exn. 3. If circumstances should make any alteration necessary, the Examiner should see that it is made in both forms; otherwise delay in the issue of the Certificate may be caused.

31. Service found to be insufficient.—If, after a candidate has passed the examination, it is discovered on further investigation that his services are insufficient to entitle him to receive a Certificate of the grade for which he has passed, the Certificate will not be granted to him; but if the Government are satisfied that the error in the calculation of the candidate's services did not occur through any fault or wilful misrepresentation on his part, he may either have the fee returned to him or have it placed to his credit. Should his services entitle him to a Certificate of a lower grade it may be granted to him, and the difference, if any, between the fee paid by him for the superior Certificate and the fee payable for the inferior Certificate will be returned to him or placed to his credit. The superior Certificate will not be granted until the candidate has performed the amount of service in which he was deficient, and has been re-examined in all the subjects, unless the Government see fit to dispense with the re-examination.

32. Copy of Lost Certificate.—An applicant for a certified copy of a lost Certificate, either of Competency or Service, must fill in a form of application, Exn. 23, giving the particulars required, and hand it to the Port Officer. A declaration as to the circumstances in which the Certificate was lost must be made by the applicant before a Magistrate.

No fee will be charged if the applicant can prove that the Certificate was lost through shipwreck or fire.

33. Masters' and Mates' Examination in Steam.—Particulars of the examination of Masters and Mates in steam will be found in Appendix G.

CHAPTER II.—*Qualifications required for the various grades.

34. Second Class Engineer.—A candidate for a Second Class Engineer's Certificate, whether Ordinary or Motor, must be not less than 21 years of age.

(a) Workshop Service.—A candidate must have served as apprentice Engineer for four years at least in the United Kingdom or five years in India and prove that during this period he has been employed in the manner set forth in rule 42.

Service as journeyman is accepted in lieu of apprenticeship.

If the character of the workshop service performed is not of the standard prescribed, additional service will be required as explained in rule 43.

If the total period of the candidate's workshop service, as calculated in accordance with these Regulations, is less than four or five years as the case may be, the candidate may make up the deficiency by service at sea, either (1) on day work on board foreign-going steamships of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, and/or motor ships of not less than 373 brake horse-power, or on regular watch on the main propelling machinery of such ships, or (2) on regular watch on the main propelling machinery of home trade steamships of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, and/or motor ships of not less than 373 brake horse-power; such service to be counted as equivalent in the case of (1) to two-thirds, and in the case of (2) to four-ninths of service as apprentice Engineer or journeyman. No day work at sea performed before the age of 21 years will be accepted.

(b) Sea Service.—In addition to the above workshop service or the alternative sea service, a candidate must have served at sea for a period equivalent to 18 months in foreign trade, as engineer on regular watch on the main propelling machinery of steamships of not less than 66 nominal horse-power, and/or motor ships of not less than 373 brake horse-power. Time served in the home trade is reckoned at two-thirds of the time similarly served in foreign trade. For an Ordinary Certificate, at least two-thirds of the required period of service must have been performed in steamships, and for a Motor Certificate at least two-thirds must have been performed in motor ships. The remainder of the service, in each case, may be performed in either steam or motor ships.

35. Second Class Certificate: Syllabus of Examination.—A candidate for a Second Class Certificate, whether Ordinary or Motor, is required—

(a) to write legibly, spell correctly, and express himself, generally, in creditable English:

(b) to show sufficient knowledge of the metric system, etc., and of mathematics for dealing successfully with simple problems relating to mechanical principles, beams, safety and relief valves, consumption of fuel and stores, capacities of bunkers, tanks, etc., speed of vessels, strength of pipes and receivers, subjected to internal pressure, stresses in shafting and other parts of the machinery, etc.:

(j) to be able to apply the indicator, calculate the mean pressure and horse-power, and understand, generally, the fluctuation of pressure in the cylinder as shown by the diagrams obtained :

(k) to have a fair knowledge of the rudiments of projection, and be able to make a dimensioned working drawing of some simple part of the machinery with which he ought to be familiar, or to complete and develop a given example.

36. For an ordinary Certificate.—The candidate must also be prepared to be examined in the following subjects :—

(a) the methods of constructing marine steam engines and boilers, as used in the workshops, the processes to which the several parts are submitted, or which are incidental to their manufacture ; and the methods employed in fitting the machinery on board ship :
(b) the various designs of paddle and screw steam engines (including turbines) now adopted ; the functions of each important part ; and the attention required by the different parts of the machinery on board ship :

(f) the use and management of boiler fittings and mountings, with special reference to the water gauges (see Appendix F) and safety valves ; the precautions necessary to be taken when raising steam, and when opening stop valves to admit steam to steam pipes, etc.:
(g) the installations generally employed, respectively, for forcing draught, superheating steam, and burning oil fuel ; the attention they require when working, and the care necessary for their maintenance in satisfactory condition.

37. For a Motor Certificate.—The candidate, in addition to compliance with rule 35, is required—

(a) to be able to give a clear explanation of the principles on which oil, gas, or other internal combustion engines work, including the methods of ignition ; to point out the differences between them, and to show, by means of sketches and otherwise, that he understands the details of the construction of those in general use :

(g) to possess a good working knowledge of the construction and management of auxiliary steam boilers and machinery :
(h) to be familiar with the nature and properties of the various oils, etc., generally used in internal combustion engines, and to understand what is meant by "flash" point ; also to have a knowledge of the explosive properties of the gas or vapour given off by these oils, etc., when mixed with a definite quantity of air ; and to be thoroughly conversant with the danger of exposing a naked light to such gas or vapour, or of allowing any leakage from the oil tanks, gas producers, pipes, vaporisers, etc., particularly into the vessel's bilges and other unventilated spaces :

(i) to understand thoroughly the precautions to be taken against fire or explosion from oil or gas, and how to deal with fire should it break out; also to be familiar with the action of wire gauge diaphragms, when placed in pipes and connections to oil tanks, etc., for the purpose of preventing the explosion or ignition of the oil vapour therein.

38. First Class Engineer.—A candidate for a First Class Engineer's Certificate, whether Ordinary or Motor, must not be less than 22½ years of age.

Sea Service.—The candidate must—

(a) have served at sea in foreign trade for eighteen months, on regular watch on the main propelling machinery, as Senior Engineer in charge of the whole watch (see rule 46); or

(b) have served at sea in the home trade for 2 years and 3 months as First Engineer; or 3 years as Second Engineer; or 3 years and 9 months as Third or Fourth Engineer, being Senior Engineer in charge of the whole watch on the main propelling machinery; or

(c) possess, or be entitled to, a First Class Certificate of Service.

Subject to the provisions of rules 40 and 41, the whole of the required period of qualifying service must have been performed while in possession of a Second Class Certificate of the same description (Ordinary or Motor) as that for which the candidate wishes to be examined; and it must have been performed in steamships of not less than 99 nominal horse-power and/or motor ships of not less than 560 brake horse-power. At least two-thirds of the required service must have been in ships of the type (steam or motor) to which the desired Certificate relates; the remainder of the service may have been in either steam or motor ships.

39. First Class Engineer: Syllabus of Examination.—The candidate is required—

(a) to display a superior knowledge of all the subjects specified in rule 35 and in either rule 36 or rule 37 as the case may be:

(b) to show that he understands how to maintain in good working condition any machinery or other appliances which may be placed in his charge; how to provide against defects and breakdowns; and also to show that he is competent to carry out or direct any ordinary repairs or renewals that may be required:

(c) to be acquainted with the usual structure of an ordinary steel ship, and understand how to preserve in good condition such parts as the bilges, bunkers, tanks under the boilers, etc.:

(d) to be able to recognise from an indicator diagram any irregularity in the working of the engine which it may show, to know how this might be rectified, and to be able to sketch approximately the difference any alteration in the working of the valves, etc., would produce in the diagram:

(e) to be able to make a satisfactory working drawing of one or more of the principal parts of the machinery, or other appliances with which he ought to be familiar, or to complete and develop a given example; and supply the figured dimensions and other particulars necessary to enable the part or parts depicted to be made from the drawing.

For an Ordinary Certificate.—The candidate is also required—

(f) to be thoroughly conversant with the principles and practice of surface condensation, superheating, and the working of steam expansively, and with the economical and efficient use of coal and oil fuel.

For a Motor Certificate.—He is also required—

(g) to know how the flash point of an oil is ascertained, and be capable of determining experimentally that of any sample when the necessary apparatus is provided.

40. First Class Certificates without Second.—The Government of Bengal may see fit to allow an applicant who, in consequence of service abroad, has had no opportunity to obtain a Second Class Certificate, either Imperial or Colonial, to be examined for a First Class Ordinary, or Motor, Certificate, although he does not possess a Certificate of the lower grade, provided he is able to satisfy them as to the satisfactory character of his services; but these must be ample both as regards length and experience. As a rule, at least 4 years' sea service, a fair proportion of which must have been in a responsible capacity, and qualifying for a First Class Certificate, will be required; but all applications under this rule should be submitted by the Examiner to the Chief Examiner for consideration.

If any such candidate fails to pass the examination for the First Class Certificate, but passes that for the lower grade, he may be given a Second Class Certificate of Competency, but no part of the fee will be returned. If he fails in practical knowledge, he may be re-examined for a Second Class Certificate only, subject to the usual regulations relating to such failures.

Until the 1st January 1924, the holder of a Second Class Ordinary Certificate may be examined for a First Class Motor Certificate without previously obtaining a Second Class Motor Certificate, provided that he proves that he has served for at least 18 months at sea in a capacity qualifying for First Class, in a suitable motor vessel.

41. Endorsement of Certificates.—The holder of an Ordinary Certificate may, at any time, have it endorsed to the effect that he is competent for service in the appropriate capacity in motor ships, provided that he proves at least 9 months' service in foreign trade or 13½ months in the home trade in a qualifying capacity, in motor ships of horse-power not less than that required by these Regulations, and passes the appropriate examination. The holder of a Motor Certificate may have it endorsed for service in steamships provided that he proves at least 12 months' service in foreign trade or 18 months in the home trade in a qualifying capacity in steamships of horse-power not less than that required by these Regulations and passes the appropriate examination.

Sea service performed in charge of a watch in vessels of the required horse-power whilst holding a Second Class Certificate, either Ordinary or Motor, will be accepted as qualifying for First Class Endorsement of either denomination, provided that in the case of an Ordinary endorsement the necessary experience has been gained on both main engines and boilers of a steamship. (See rule 46.)

42. Workshop Service.—A candidate is expected to have served not less than four years in the United Kingdom or five years in India as apprentice Engineer or journeyman, at the making or repairing of steam or internal combustion engines such as would be recognised as affording useful training for a marine engineer. No time served before the age of 15 will be accepted.

Not less than two years in the United Kingdom or three years in India of this period should have been devoted to fitting, erecting or repairing engines of suitable size, either in the works or outside, and the remaining two years may have been spent (1) on work of this nature; (2) on work in other branches of the trade, subject to the time allowances specified in the schedule below; (3) at an approved technical school, subject to the conditions specified in rule 45.

SCHEDULE OF TIME ALLOWANCES in respect of workshop service, other than fitting, erecting or repairing, but performed in connection with engines of the nature indicated above. Total maximum allowance two years.

Turning	Full time.
Working in drawing office ...	Full time up to one year, and beyond one year one-half time.
Brass finishing (good heavy work)	Full time up to one year, and beyond one year one-half time.
Boiler making or repairing ...	One-half time.
Smith work	One-half time, with a maximum allowance of one year.
Planing, slotting, shaping, and milling	One-third time.
Coppersmith work ...	One-third time, with a maximum allowance of six months.

In the event of the apprenticeship time being extended to five years in the United Kingdom or six years in India or more, four years at turning followed by one year in the United Kingdom or two years in India at fitting or erecting may be accepted as qualifying.

This rule applies only to works at which the making and/or repairing of engines, boilers, etc., forms part of the regular business for which the works exist. Service at works where the repairing of engines, boilers, etc., is merely incidental to the running of plant, however large, which is used for the production of power for other machinery, etc., should be dealt with under rule 43, each case being considered on its merits.

43. Workshop Service where engines of suitable size are not made or repaired.—Workshop service other than that mentioned in rule 42 may be accepted if it is considered useful training for a sea-going Engineer, but each case must be submitted to the Chief Examiner for consideration before the applicant is examined. For every 12 months of such service accepted, the applicant must have performed at least an additional three months' service on marine engines (steam or motor), either in the works or at sea on regular watch on the main propelling machinery or on day work; and a longer additional period may be required if the deficient character of the service warrants further compensation.

44. Service in Colonial and Foreign Workshops.—Rules 42 and 43 apply to service in the United Kingdom and/or India only. Service in a Colonial or foreign workshop will not be accepted unless the Examiner is satisfied in each case that its value is substantially equivalent to that of service performed in the United Kingdom and/or India. In cases where the Examiner is not satisfied that the value is equivalent, he should refer the matter to the Chief Examiner.

Workshop service in India is in no case to be taken as equivalent to more than four-fifths of the same period of service in the United Kingdom.

45. Technical Schools.—Time spent at an approved day Technical School, where there is an engineering laboratory, is, subject to the conditions mentioned in Appendix H, accepted as equivalent to workshop service, usually in the ratio of three years in the Technical School to two years' workshop service, provided also that the applicant has taken the full engineering course, and can produce the Principal's certificate for regular attendance at all the approved classes, and for satisfactory progress.

Time spent in attending evening classes in Engineering at approved Technical Schools will similarly be allowed to count under the following conditions:—

(1) each applicant claiming an allowance for time spent in attending evening classes at a Technical School must produce a certificate signed by the Principal of the School to the effect that he has attended regularly at a definite class or classes, which should be specified, and has made satisfactory progress. This certificate must also state the total number of hours spent by the applicant in attending each class.

(2) time spent by the applicant in attending such classes as have a direct bearing on the training of a Marine Engineer will be reckoned at the rate of five hours to one day. The total number of days so obtained will then be accepted in lieu of a certain fraction of the same period of workshop service. This fraction will be fixed for each school at the time of approval, and will generally be two-thirds;

(3) an applicant who has attended a Technical School in the evening, while being employed as an apprentice Engineer or journeyman during the day, must, in order that the school time may be accepted, produce satisfactory proof that he has spent the full working day in the works at which he is employed before attending the school. Such proof will usually take the form of a statement in the testimonial as to workshop service given by the employer.

Time spent in foreign technical schools can in no circumstances be recognised.

For list of approved technical schools and time allowed for attendance at each see Appendix H.

46. Sea-service.—The sea-service required by these Regulations is, unless otherwise stated, service performed in foreign-going ships propelled by engines of at least the horse-power specified for the respective grades of certificate. The nominal horse-power of a steamship, as given on the Certificate of Registry, may in all cases be accepted by the Examiners; or it may be determined by the following formula:—

$$N.H.P. = \frac{(3H + D^2 \sqrt[3]{S})\ \sqrt[3]{P}}{700}$$

where H = heating surface of main boilers in square feet, measured down to the level of the fire bars, but excluding the front tube plate.

D^2 = square of diameter of low pressure cylinder, or sum of squares of diameters of cylinders in non-compound engines, measured in inches.

S = length of stroke of engines in inches.

P = pressure of main boilers in pounds per square inch.

Service in the home or coasting trade is regarded as being equivalent to two-thirds of the same period of time served in the foreign trade except where other allowances are specified. (See rules 34, 38, 41, 48, 49, 50 and 51.)

In the case of Indian coasting voyages extending beyond a distance of 500 miles from the port of departure in steamships commanded by Masters holding foreign-going certificates, such service will count as foreign voyages, and will be reckoned as full time; but the time spent in the port of departure or Home port will not be allowed to count. In all cases the length of service is deemed to commence on the date of sailing from the port of departure or Home port and to end on the date of arrival at the Home port.

Being on regular watch means being on watch for at least eight hours each day continuously.

In the case of applicants for First Class Certificates, qualifying service means, as a rule, service on regular watch on the main engines and boilers as Senior Engineer in charge of the whole watch. When, however, several Engineers are on watch at the same time, the service of any one of them may be allowed to count, provided a certificate from the Superintendent Engineer is produced stating that the applicant was in charge of a watch on a definite section of the main engines or boilers in a separate compartment of the ship. During the whole of the period claimed, the applicant must have been in possession of a Second Class Certificate.

In the case of applicants for Second Class Certificates, qualifying sea service means service as Engineer on regular watch on the main engines or boilers. In no case will time spent in clerical or day work be allowed to count as watch-keeping service.

All applicants for Ordinary Certificates (including those for First Class who have not been in charge of the whole of a watch but qualify under this rule as having been in charge of a section of the machinery only) will be required to have served at sea on regular watch on both the main engines and the boilers, not less than six months being spent on each.

47. Marine Technical Schools.—An applicant for either a Second Class or a First Class Ordinary or Motor Certificate who, within two years from the date of application to be examined, has attended an approved course, comprising general mathematical and scientific instruction at a Technical School recognised by the Government as suitable for the training of Marine Engineers, will be allowed to count time so spent as equivalent to sea service usually in the ratio of three months at the Technical School to two months at sea. Time so spent cannot be accepted as equivalent to more than one-sixth of the total sea service required for either Certificate, but an applicant who has been allowed to count such time on examination for a Second Class Certificate will not be debarred from counting similar subsequent time on applying for examination for a First Class Certificate.

In every case in which an allowance is made for time spent at a Marine Technical School, the applicant will be required to produce the Principal's Certificate for continuous and regular attendance at all the approved classes, and for satisfactory progress.

The applicant must also produce his class note books, which will be forwarded to the Chief Examiner, in order that he may satisfy himself that the applicant has followed the approved course of instruction, and that the remission of sea service claimed may be allowed accordingly.

Applicants for examination who claim remission of sea service should, as a rule, make their claim on form Exn. 3 at least a week before they desire to sit.

A list of the Marine Technical Schools recognised for this purpose is given in Appendix H.

48. Lake or River Service.—Service as watch-keeper on a lake or river vessel of not less than the required horse-power may be accepted under the following conditions for either an Ordinary or a Motor Certificate :—

(a) the service will only count half as much as sea service ; i.e., every two months of lake or river service is only equivalent to one month's foreign-going sea service ;

(b) applicants for Second Class Certificates must prove that, in addition to lake or river service, they have had at least three months' qualifying service at sea in a foreign-going ship of not less than the horse-power specified in rule 34 (b), or four and a half months' similar service in the home trade ;

(c) applicants for First Class Certificates, in addition to lake or river service in vessels of not less than the horse-power named in rule 38, must prove that they have had at least six months' qualifying service at sea, with a Second Class Engineer's Certificate, in foreign-going vessels of not less than the horse-power specified, or nine months' similar service in the home trade.

49. Service in Auxiliary Screw Ships.—Service as Engineer performed on board auxiliary screw whalers and other vessels with auxiliary power not less than that required for a Second Class Certificate may be allowed to count as qualifying for examination for a Second Class Engineer's Certificate to the extent of one-half the time the vessel is actually at sea. If the applicant is able to prove that the main engines were running for longer than this, he will be allowed to count the whole of such extended time.

50. Service in Dredgers, Fishing-boats, Tug-boats, or Pilot-vessels.—Service in sea-going dredgers, fishing-boats, or tug-boats, and in pilot-vessels when on their station or when going to or returning from the same, may be accepted under the following conditions :—Two months of such service is only equivalent to one month's qualifying service in a foreign-going vessel. Applicants for Second Class Certificates may perform all their sea service in sea-going dredgers, fishing-boats, tug-boats, or pilot-vessels, but they must have been on regular watch on the main propelling machinery, the horse-power of which must not be less than that required. Candidates for First Class Certificates must, while in possession of a Second Class Certificate, have served in vessels of at least the horse-power named in rule 38, and have been in charge of the whole of a watch on the main machinery. They must also have served, in a qualifying capacity, for not less than six months in a foreign-going ship, or nine months in a home-trade ship.

This rule will not apply to service on the steam pilot vessels at the Sandheads. Service on the regular watch on board such vessels for the period the vessels are on the station, or when going to or returning from the same, shall be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of the time performed in foreign-going trading vessels, as in the case of steam yachts.

Where an Engineer is employed on a fishing or other vessel, and is required to do stoking or other work not usually performed by an Engineer in the Mercantile Marine, such service cannot be accepted as qualifying.

The Examiners should in all cases satisfy themselves that service on fishing boats, when claimed as qualifying for a certificate as Engineer, is of a nature similar to that performed by Engineers in the Mercantile Marine.

51. Service in Yachts.—Service performed in yachts, either within or beyond home-trade limits, may be accepted as equivalent to two-thirds of the time performed in foreign-going trading vessels, provided that the applicant's name is entered on the vessel's articles, and that he can prove, to the satisfaction of the examiner, that the time claimed was actually served at sea.

Applicants for Second Class Certificates may perform all their service in yachts, but the applicant must have been on regular watch on the main machinery, and the vessel must be of not less than the horse-power stated in rule 34 (b).

Applicants for First Class Certificates must have served in vessels of the requisite horse-power, and must have been in regular charge of the main machinery. They must also have served for at least three months in a qualifying capacity on board a suitable foreign-going ship. This additional service will, however, not be required in the case of an applicant who has served for 27 months as First Engineer, or for three years as a Second Engineer, of a yacht of the requisite power.

CHAPTER III.—Conduct of the Examinations.

52. Strangers not Admitted.—No persons will be allowed in the rooms during the examinations, other than those whose duties require them to be present.

No instructors will be allowed on the premises.

53. Commencement and Duration of Examinations.—The examinations will, as a rule, commence at 10-30 A.M., and will be continued from day to day, until all the candidates are examined.

54. Candidates to be Punctual.—Candidates are required to appear at the examination room punctually at the time appointed.

55. Candidates' Places.—Candidates should be so placed as to prevent one copying from another, and no communication whatever between the candidates should be allowed.

57. Tables to be Cleared.—Before commencing the examination, the tables and desks must be cleared of all scraps of paper, or books that are not used in the examination, and care should be taken that the candidates while in the examination room do not have in their possession any book or paper, except as specified in rules 61 and 62. A sheet of blotting paper will be issued to each candidate with the first examination paper, and it must be returned to the examiner when the last paper is completed each day. The examiner should be careful to see that the blotting paper has not been used by the candidate in solving his problems, or for conveying information to other candidates.

57. Drawing Instruments.—Drawing boards and T squares will be provided by the Government, but the applicants will have to bring with them any drawing instruments they may require.

58. Examination Papers.—One set of the arithmetical questions should be given to the candidate for the morning's work at 10-30 A.M. and one for the afternoon's at 1-45 P.M., and collected not later than 1 and 4-30 P.M. All question sheets should be returned to the Chief Examiner at the conclusion of each day's work.

59. Order of Examinations.—At the examinations for First and Second Class Ordinary and Motor Certificates, papers on Practical Mathematics, Drawing, and Engineering Knowledge are given, and the candidates are finally questioned verbally on their Practical Knowledge.

Mathematics and Drawing are omitted in the case of examination for the Endorsement of a Certificate for converse service in the same grade.

Each paper on Practical Mathematics and Engineering Knowledge contains six questions. According to present arrangements, the papers, which are of distinctive colouring, are usually distributed in the following order :—

Time.	Second Class.	First Class.
First day :—
Morning ...	Drawing	Practical Mathematics. 1st Paper (grey).
Afternoon ...	Engineering Knowledge. 1st Paper (white).	Practical Mathematics. 2nd Paper (pink).
Second day :—
Morning ...	Practical Mathematics. 1st Paper (white).	Drawing.
Afternoon ...	Practical Mathematics. 2nd paper (yellow).	Drawing.
Third day :—
Morning ...	Engineering Knowledge. 2nd Paper (yellow).	Engineering Knowledge. 1st Paper (grey).
Afternoon ...	Verbals	Engineering Knowledge. 2nd Paper (pink).
Fourth and following days.	Verbals	Verbals.

60. Rules to be observed during the Examination.—

I. Candidates must not have with them any books, notes, memoranda or paper other than that supplied for use at the examination. If any candidate has brought any such notes, etc., with him he must hand them to the Examiner before beginning his work.

II. Perfect silence must be observed during the examination.

III. Candidates are advised to read the questions carefully, and to confine their attention to the problems as presented, without dealing with extraneous matter. This advice is applicable to all parts of the examination, but especially to the Drawing.

IV. The numbers of the questions to which the working has reference should be clearly indicated, but the questions themselves should not be copied. All work should be done in ink, except as specified on the subject-paper for drawing.

V. Suitable recognition will be given for clear statements, reasoning and calculations in solving the problems.

VI. Candidates will be required to write a report, or letter, in which English composition and legible handwriting will be taken into account; and bad grammar, faulty spelling and errors of punctuation will be discredited.

VII. Additional sheets of paper will be provided by the Examiner, if required. Only one side should be used, and the candidate should sign his name, and write the port and date, at the foot of each sheet. These particulars should also be given on the cover of each answer-book and on each sheet of drawing paper used.

VIII. Reference to the mathematical tables provided for the purpose is allowed, except in respect of questions which distinctly state that such reference is not permissible.

IX. Candidates may, if they wish, use slide-rules for checking their calculations, but in each case the full working necessary for arriving at the result must be shown in ink, otherwise no significance will be attached to the answer.

X. The question papers and mathematical tables, which are the property of the Government, must not be written upon or defaced in any way.

XI. No candidate may leave his seat or the examination room without permission; and if he leaves the room he will not be permitted to go on with any sheet or problem which he had in hand before leaving the room.

XII. Candidates must not communicate with each other or use any unfair means.

XIII. A candidate guilty of any breach of these rules will be subjected to all the penalties of failure, and may be excluded from further examination for such period as the Government may decide.

61. Mathematical Tables (Rule VIII).—All candidates for examination may use the examination room book of logarithms, which must always be kept under the charge of the Examiner, who will be careful to observe that it is not used to conceal memoranda prepared for these examinations. No other books will be allowed unless the question see specially states that a book may be referred to.

All candidates may, however, be allowed to use their own tables of four-figure ogarithms if they so desire.

In allowing the use of such Tables, Examiners should be particularly careful to see that they contain no notes, formulæ, or other information, either printed or written, apart from the actual tables of logarithms and trigonometrical ratios; and, before the commencement of the examination, any tables which the candidates propose to use should be examined to see that no other matter is contained in them.

62. Leaving Examination Room (Rule XI).—In the event of a candidate being permitted to leave the room, the Examiner should substitute other questions for those which have not been attempted.

63. Penalty for Breach of Rules (Rule XIII).—The circumstances attending any breach of the Rules or Regulations, or any disorderly or improper conduct in or about the examination room, should be reported immediately to the Chief Examiner, who will in due course advise the Examiner as to any penalty the Government may decide to inflict.

64. Marking Worked Papers.—The value of the work done in all four sections of the first and second class examinations (Practical Mathematics, Drawing, Engineering Knowledge, Verbals) will be assessed and recorded in accordance with the following scale:—

Marks	0— 49	= Weak,	denoted by symbol	W.
„	50— 59	= Consider	„ „ „	C.
„	60— 74	= Good	„ „ „	G.
„	75—100	= Superior	„ „ „	S.

In order to pass, a candidate's work should be "Good" in all four sections, but it must be "Good" or "Superior" in verbals. A "Consider" in either the Practical Mathematics, Drawing or Engineering Knowledge paper may be counterbalanced by a "Superior" in any of the other sections. Two "Considers" or one "Weak" will entail failure.

65. Verbals.—The Examiner should deal with practical, rather than theoretical, questions in this division of the examination, and no candidate should be failed in the verbal examination without having been well cross-questioned on the points on which failure takes place.

Questions on the management of engines and boilers at sea, the duties of the supervising engineer, the work to be done to the engines, boilers and auxiliary machinery in port, and the periodical examinations of the working parts, should form part of the verbal examination.

It is considered of great importance that candidates for examination should have an extensive knowledge of the particulars of actual casualties which have occurred at sea, and be able to state how these might have been prevented, and how they were remedied.

Should a candidate have had no personal experience of any defects, and be unable to describe casualties to machinery which may have occurred in the experience of others, he should be closely questioned as to his knowledge of boiler and engine construction and repair.

As it is possible for a candidate to obtain pass marks in Practical Mathematics, although apparently unable to calculate horse-power from indicator diagrams, strength of boiler seams, etc., and, further, as a drawing may be passed as such although containing faults of a practical description, examiners should, as far as practicable, scrutinise the worked papers, and in each candidate's verbal examination include questions on such practical deficiencies as may appear in his papers.

The points on which a candidate fails in verbals must be reported on Exn. 37.

66. Examination Results.—The results of examinations should be communicated to all candidates.

67. Voluntary Retirement to be discouraged.—Voluntary retirement from any examination should be discouraged. Each first and second class candidate should be taken through the whole examination, at least on first presenting himself, in order that his ability in all four sections of the examination may be ascertained and recorded.

68. Failure in Examination.—Failure in a number of questions involving fundamental principles, or in subjects ignorance of which might lead an Engineer to do something actually unsafe in the management of any part of a ship's machinery (e.g., questions on manipulation and reading of the water-gauge, the danger of fire and explosion in motor vessels, etc.), will be regarded as failure in practical knowledge, and any candidate so failing may not present himself for re-examination until he can produce proofs of six months' further service at sea in a qualifying capacity, as engineer on watch on the main engines or boilers of a foreign-going ship, or its equivalent in the home trade (nine months), subsequent to the date of failure.

In cases of failure, other than failure in practical knowledge, the candidate may present himself for re-examination at any time, but if he fails three times in any part or parts of the examination within any period of three months, he will not be re-examined until after a lapse of three months from the date of the last failure.

In any cases of failure the re-examination must embrace all the subjects.

69. Reports of Examinations.—Reports of examinations on forms Exn. 15 and Exn. 37, together with the candidates' applications (form Exn. 3) duly completed, their lower grade Certificates, if any, and all examination papers which have not already been forwarded, should be sent to the Chief Examiner as soon as the examinations are finished. The candidates' discharges and testimonials, except such as are directly addressed to the Examiners, should be returned to them.

3. On Monday at noon the counter stood at 899342. The engines continued to run at full speed, making 79 revolutions per minute, until 4 P.M. on Tuesday, when the speed was reduced. At noon on Wednesday the counter stood at 099024. What were the average revolutions per minute whilst running at reduced speed? (6 marks.)

4. A metal pipe is 11 feet long over all, 6 inches in external diameter, and the metal is 0·47 inch thick. There is a flange at each end 11 inches in diameter and 0·76 inch thick. If the specific gravity of the material is 8·8, what is the weight of the pipe in pounds? (12 marks.)

5. A weight of 5½ tons is raised by means of a screw jack, the pitch of the screw being ½ inch. If a force of 51 pounds is required at the end of the lever in order to turn the screw, and 61 per cent. of the power is lost in friction, what is the length of the lever? (10 marks.)

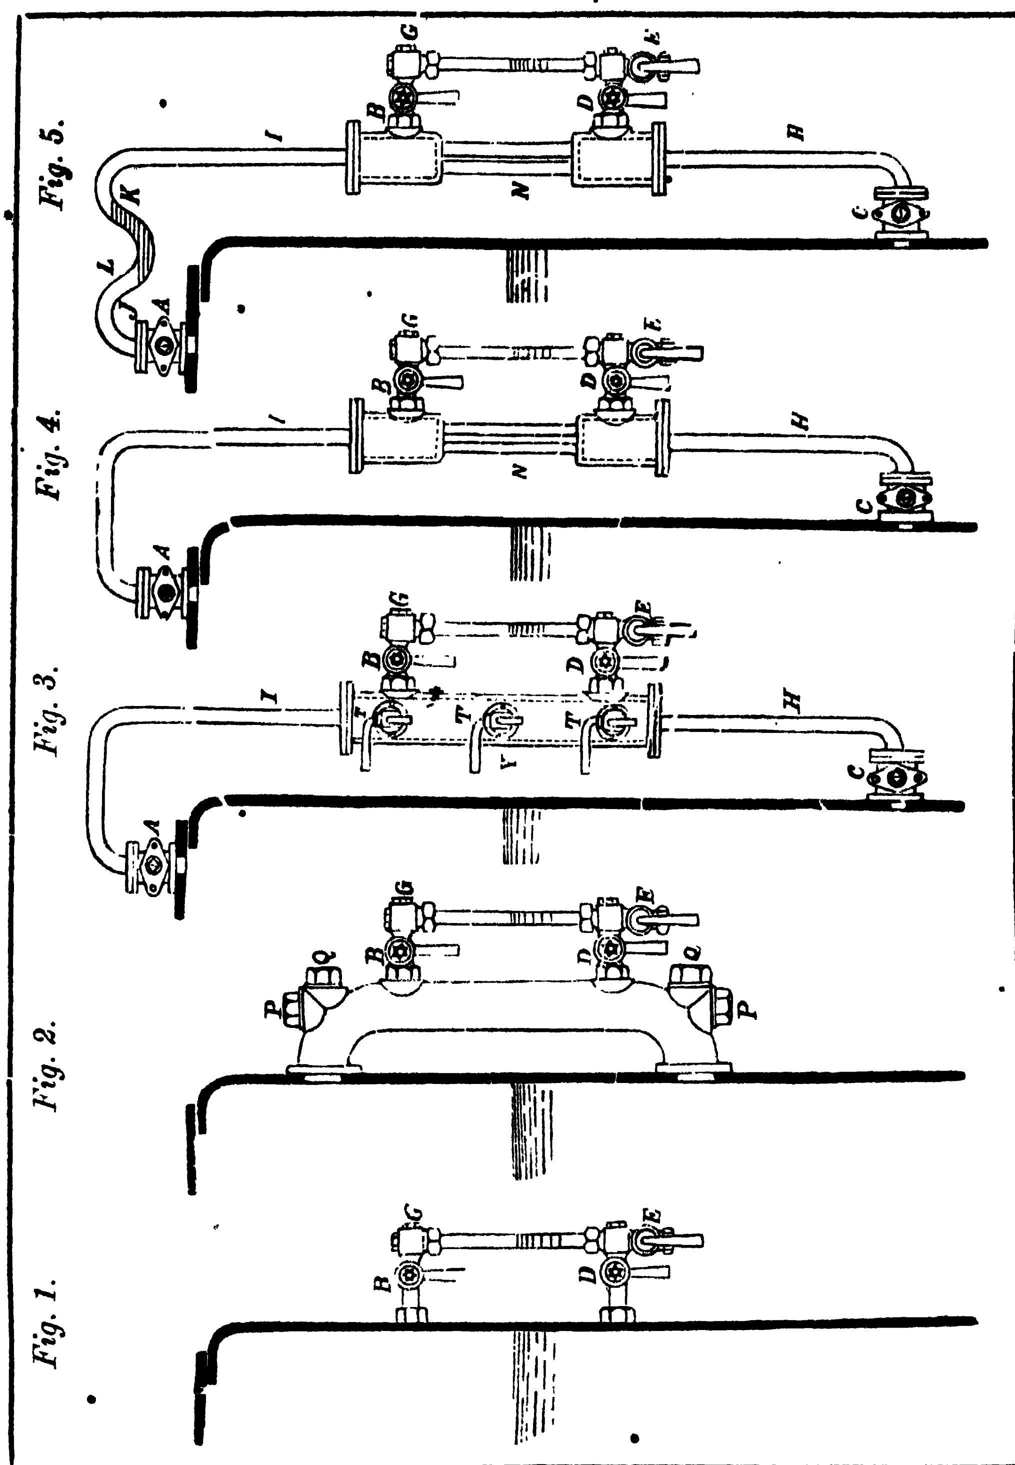
APPENDIX F.



Reading the water-gauge.

Notwithstanding that the reading of the water-gauge is made a special feature in the examination of Engineers, many boiler casualties result from the Engineer of the watch either not understanding the construction of the water-gauge fittings or not satisfying himself by actual trial that the cocks, pipes, etc., are clear.

Unless a candidate under examination is able to prove that he understands how to verify the indications of the water-gauge, he should not be passed in practical knowledge, and, as failure in practical knowledge involves the candidate going to sea for another six months before being eligible for re-examination, the Examiner should explain to such candidate his error, after failing him, in order to prevent further casualties resulting from his want of knowledge on this subject.

The sketches, Figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, Plate I, represent the usual methods of attaching water-gauge mountings to marine boilers, the smoke-boxes being omitted, for convenience, from Figures 3, 4 and 5. The important features in each gauge and the method of verifying its indications are dealt with separately in the following remarks.

Plate 1.

Referring to figure 1 only.

In this case the water-gauge cocks are attached direct to the boiler, and the accuracy the gauge when the boiler is under steam can be tested as follows :—

First.—Let B remain open, then close cock D and open cock E, and if steam issues it proves that cock B and the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass are clear. If no steam or water issues, either cock B or the passage through the top fitting and gauge glass is choked and the gauge cannot act properly until the obstruction is removed.

Second.—Close cock B and open D and E, and if water issues, cock D is clear. If no water or steam issues, either cock D or the passage from the boiler through the lower fitting is choked and must be cleared before the gauge can act properly.

Referring to Figure 2 only.

In this case the gauge cocks are attached to a bent pipe of comparatively large diameter (at least 3 inches in the bore), the upper end of which communicates with the steam space, and the lower end with the water space of the boiler. Owing to the bore of the pipe being large, it is not likely to become choked or stopped under the ordinary conditions of working. The water-gauge is, therefore, in practically the same condition as if it were attached direct to the boiler, as in Figure 1. This gauge, when at work, is tested in precisely the same manner as the one shown in Figure 1.

Screw plugs are inserted at P.P. and Q.Q. by the removal of which the apertures in the pipe can be cleared, if necessary, by the insertion of a wire or rod when steam is down.

Referring to Figure 3 only.

In this gauge there is an open communication from A to C through the column Y, and in order to "blow through the glass" it is only necessary to shut cocks D and B alternately, keeping E open. But to "blow through the water-gauge," including the pipes H and I, it is necessary, after blowing through the glass as described above, to shut A and C alternately, at the same time keeping B, D and E open for such time as will ensure the complete discharge of the contents of the gauge and its connections. When B, D and C are clear and A choked, the steam lodging in the glass and in the pipe I leading from column Y to A becomes condensed and the water flowing through C to take its place rises in column Y and in the glass to a level above that of the water in the boiler. In other words, the gauge shows a false level. If now E be opened and water is blown out, then on E being again closed the water in the gauge will rise higher than before and be still further misleading. On the other hand, when B, D and A are clear and C choked, the water, if any, in the glass is trapped and no longer rises and falls with the water in the boiler or with the motion of the vessel; it, however, slowly rises in the glass owing to the condensation of the steam in the upper part of the gauge until such time as E is opened, when the whole of the water in the glass is blown out; and on E being closed, the glass does not show any water, notwithstanding that the water in the boiler may be at the proper level. When the test cocks T.T.T. are attached to column Y, as shown in Figure 3, they cease to be reliable when either cock A or C or the pipe in connection therewith is choked, or nearly choked.

Referring to Figure 4 only.

Sometimes the water-gauge fittings are arranged as shown in Figures 4 and 5, with no passage up the column, the central portion (N) of the column being simply a pillar or connecting piece of any convenient section between the upper and lower portions to which the cocks B and D are attached.

By this arrangement double communications are obviated and there is no need for what is known as "double shut off" in testing the accuracy of the gauge. When, however, the gauges are constructed in this manner, the cocks B and D are unreliable as test cocks in the event of there being no glass in the gauge. This feature should be carefully noted. Moreover, when in working condition, the reduction of pressure in the glass which arises when E is opened causes the water in pipe H to rise above its normal level. This objectionable feature should also be noted.

Referring to Figure 5 only.

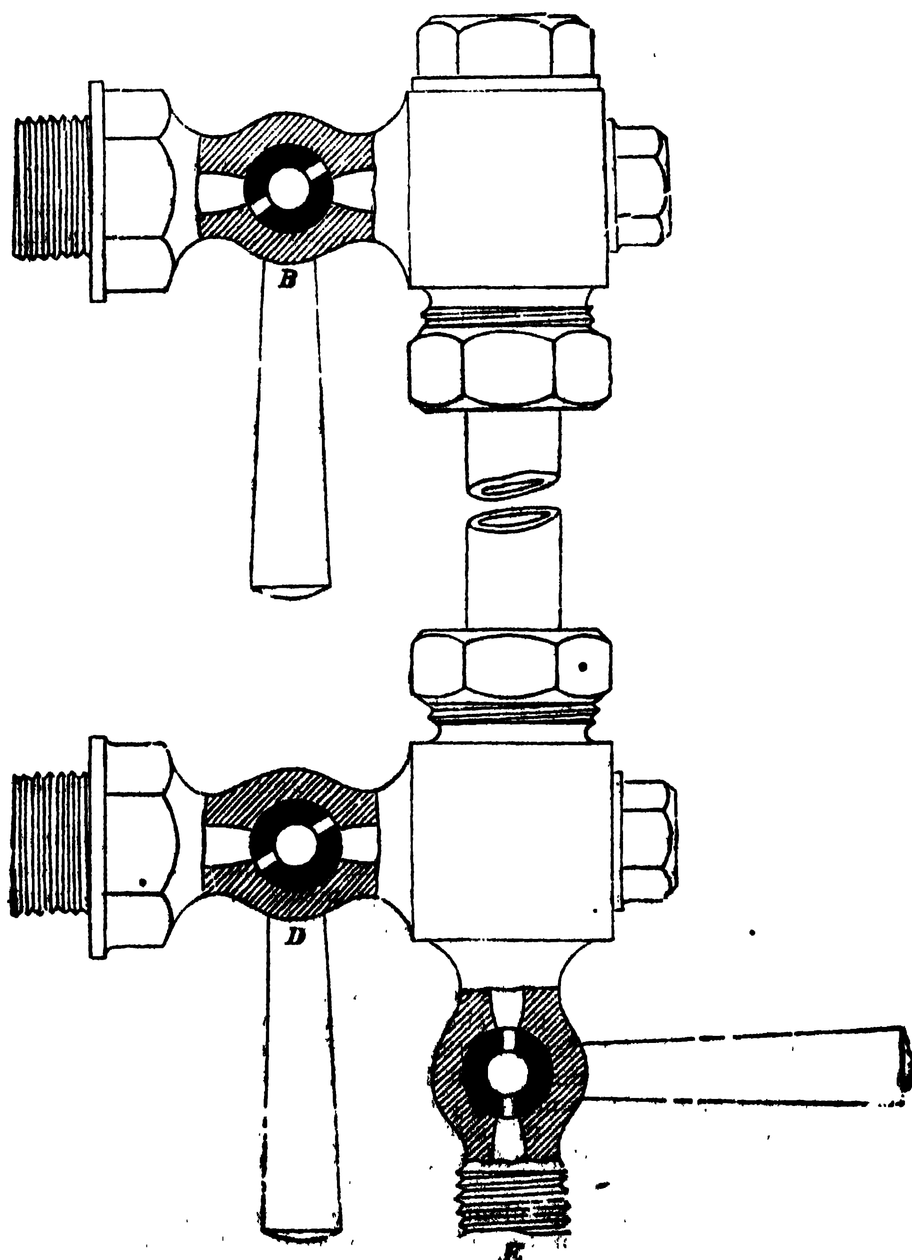
Sometimes there is a bend, L, in the steam pipe I leading from cock A to cock B This has occasionally escaped observation when new boilers have been fitted on board ship. In most cases this bend arises from the pipe being led in an abnormal direction to escape other pipes, beams or fittings near the smoke-box. With such a bend the condensed steam collects in the pipe and falls to the bottom of the bend, and in time it completely fills the pipe from J to K. The steam from K down to the level of the water in the glass is thereby trapped and, as condensation proceeds, leads to a reduction of pressure in the pipe below that of the boiler and an equivalent rise of the water in the bend and also in the gauge glass. When the vessel is quiescent the water in the gauge glass increases in height until cock E is opened or until the pressure in the boiler is so much in excess of that in the lower part of pipe I as to cause the water in the bend to be blown into the gauge glass. In either case instantaneous change of water level in the glass ensues.

In the ordinary course of working, the phenomenon described above is more or less modified by the presence of air in the upper part of the gauge and by the rise and fall of the water in the boiler and gauge glass arising from the rolling or pitching motions of the vessel.

Other Special Points to be noted.

When the cocks A and C are omitted, as in Figure 2, it is owing to the bore of the stand pipe being sufficiently large to enable it to be regarded as part of the boiler. Such pipes require, however, to be examined and cleared at intervals by passing a rod through the holes provided for the purpose at P.P. and Q.Q.

Cocks at A and C are not necessary for the testing of gauges arranged as shown in Figures 4 and 5. Examiners ought, however, to make sure that candidates are aware of the impossibility of testing the reliability of the indications of water-gauges arranged as in Figure 3 when the cocks A and C are absent, and of the effect which the choking of cock A or C or pipe H or I has on the indications of the test cocks T.T.T. attached to column Y.



Probably more than half the steamers afloat are fitted with water-gauges as shown in Figures 3 and 4, and it is therefore specially important that engineer candidates should thoroughly understand their construction, the principle on which they act, and the steps which must be taken to keep them in an efficient condition.

When fitting a gauge glass into its place, it is specially important that it should not be placed so high as to prevent a clearing rod being inserted at G, Figures 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. This defect, especially if it occurs in a water-gauge attached to a boiler subject to priming, permits a rapid accumulation of scum around the top of the glass and results in the choking of the orifice leading from cock B to the gauge glass in each of the figures.

When a gauge glass is too short, or is placed either too high or too low in the fittings, it is also liable to become choked by the packing material being forced over its ends by the glands whilst being screwed up.

The use of unsuitable or insecure internal pipes in connection either with the ordinary glass gauge cocks of the description shown in Figure 1, or with test cocks which are jointed to the boiler itself, should also be carefully guarded against.

Boiler casualties have resulted from the cocks B and D having the parts wrongly placed as shown in Figure 6, Plate II. In one case of that kind, which forms the subject of Report No. 208 under the Boiler Explosions Acts, the engineer in testing the water-gauge omitted to see that the passages in the cocks B and D were clear when the handles were in their proper working position. This defect could easily have been discovered if proper attention had been paid to the condition of the cocks. A defect of this nature may be due to faulty construction originally, or to the handle of the cock having been over-strained, and the neck twisted. Whether the passages in the plugs are fair and clear can, however, be verified in a few minutes. As an illustration, the water cock D, Figure 6, Plate II, can be verified by blowing through E with B shut and then moving the handle of D to one side until it is just closed, and then to the other side until it is again just closed; the proper working position of the handle is about equally distant from each of the above positions. The other cocks can be verified in the same manner.

Another serious casualty occurred through the handle of the cock A, Figure 3, having been twisted from its original position relatively to the orifice of the cock, resulting in the cock being shut when apparently open.

When a water-gauge, that is clear in all its parts, has been thoroughly blown through, the water in the glass rises above the level at which it formerly stood, immediately the drain cock E is closed, but if left undisturbed for a time it gradually falls to its former position. The amount of rise which occurs on these occasions depends chiefly on the temperature of the contents of the boiler and on the length of the pipes by which column Y is connected top and bottom to the boiler, but in cases where the gauge is of the description illustrated in Figures 3, 4 and 5, it amounts in high pressure boilers to about 4 inches, while the time occupied by the water in returning to its former level ranges from 30 to 40 minutes. The cause of this rise is twofold, namely (a) the displacement of the comparatively cold water in pipe H by hotter and proportionately lighter water from the boiler, and (b) a slight condensation of the steam and a corresponding fractional reduction of pressure in pipe I. The cause of the gradual subsidence of the water in the glass to its former level is also of a dual character, namely, (a) the cooling of the water in pipe H, and (b) the diminution in the condensation of steam in pipe I owing to the collection therein of air released from the steam condensed.

These results will, however, be somewhat modified if the water in the boiler is of higher density than in pipe H, and this will nearly always be the case owing to the condensation of the steam in the glass and upper fittings of the water gauge, causing the water in the lower part to be fresher than that in the boiler.

The Examiner should impress upon candidates the necessity for periodically blowing through the water-gauge on each boiler (no matter what the form may be) in a systematic and thorough manner, and, in cases where a boiler is fitted with two water-gauges, of keeping both in constant use; finally, he should further impress upon them the necessity for keeping the water-gauges well-lighted, clean, and in all respects efficient.

APPENDIX G.

(SEE RULE 33.)

Examination of Masters and Mates in Steam.

These examinations are provided for the purpose of giving Masters and Mates who are possessed of Certificates of Competency an opportunity of undergoing a voluntary examination as to their practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine. The endorsement of a Master's or Mate's Certificate for "Steam" does not, however, imply that he is qualified to perform the duties of an Engineer.

The examination is open to any person who holds a Certificate of any grade in the Foreign or Home trade, or as Master of his own pleasure yacht.

Applicants should fill up the form of application, form Exn. 2, at the Port Office, pay the fee of Rs. 20, and deposit their Certificates and testimonials with the Examiners, who will inform them when and where to attend to be examined. The usual testimonials for sobriety and good conduct for at least the last 18 months preceding the date of application to be examined must be produced, and at least a week's notice of the applicant's intention to sit for examination should be given.

If the candidate passes, forms Exn. 15 and Exn. 2, together with a written report of the examination and the candidate's Certificate, should be sent to the Chief Examiner of Engineers. The words "Certified to have passed in Steam," with the date and place of examination, will be entered on the Certificate and its counterpart, and the Certificate will be sent by the Port Officer to the Superintendent of the Mercantile Marine Office of the port named in the form Exn. 2, and will be delivered to the candidate in the usual manner.

If the candidate fails to pass, his Certificate will be returned to him at once, but he may not present himself for re-examination until the expiration of three months from the date of failure.

The examination is for the most part vivâ voce, and extends to a general knowledge of the practical use of coal and oil fuel, the working of steam engines (including turbines) and boilers, and of the various valves, fittings, and pieces of machinery connected with them, and of the way in which electric lighting is carried out on board ship.

Candidates must—

(a) Have a thorough grasp of the construction of the steam engine and boiler, to enable them to understand the nature and importance of any defect which may be reported to them by the Chief Engineer.

(b) Know the names and understand the uses of the various parts of engines and boilers, and their connecting pipes, valves, cocks, etc.

(c) Have a knowledge of the strength of materials, of the principal repairs required in connection with engines, boilers and pipes, and how these repairs are accomplished.

(d) Be able to form an independent opinion as to a break-down, and the consequent propriety or impropriety of proceeding under steam with temporarily repaired or defective machinery.

(e) Understand how to estimate approximately the reduction of fuel required for reduced speed, and be able to satisfy themselves as to the sufficiency of the coal or other fuel on board for the voyage.

(f) Have an intelligent grasp of the general run of pipes and connections in the engine-room, the working of cocks, the opening and closing of cocks and valves, and know how mistakes of importance may be made and how best to guard against such mistakes.

(g) Be capable of being left in charge of the feeding of a set of boilers, understand the working of the water gauge, and be able to guard against being misled by false indications of the gauge glass.

(h) Understand the operations of blowing down and surfacing, the reasons for such practices and the danger which may result from the neglect of them in certain circumstances.

A Master or Mate presenting himself for examination in Steam must be understood to have made up for his want of practical experience by reading about the steam engine. He ought, therefore, to show that he intelligently understands the rationale of its action. Under this head he should be able to state approximately the quantity of heat required in the formation of steam, the relation of "latent" heat to "sensible" heat, how much steam can be raised by the combustion of one pound of fuel, what horse-power measure is, what indicated horse-power is, what is the action of the slide valve, the course of the steam through the engine, the advantage of working expansively, and how the expansive action is shown by the indicator diagram.

He should know the uses of the various parts of the engines and dynamos used for electric lighting, and how they and the cables are fitted in the hull; how wires are jointed, insulated and cased; why it is desirable that they should be led along places which are dry and accessible; what "short circuiting" is and what are the causes which produce it; what is its danger in coal bunkers and petroleum carrying steamers; what are the uses of switches and cut-outs, and why it is so important to prevent short circuiting taking place.

Candidates will be required to give written answers to sixteen out of twenty questions in Engineering Knowledge. These questions will not be difficult, theoretical, or book questions, but such as any man of ordinary capacity who has a fair amount of practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine ought to answer.

Examiners will require all candidates to fill up a form Exn. 15b (see Appendix B), and they will forward it to the Chief Examiner of Engineers with the report of the examination.

If a candidate refers to any book, paper or memorandum, or obtains information from another candidate or any other person during the examination, he will be treated as having failed, will forfeit his fee, and will be excluded from further examination for such period as the Government may determine.

The Examiners will report, in the case of failure, the nature of the question or questions that decided the failure, or the point in the management of the engines or boilers in which the candidate was deficient.

Applicants for the voluntary examination need not necessarily have served on board steamships; all that is required is that they shall have a practical knowledge of the use and working of the steam engine.

Practical knowledge is best gained in the engine-room; and the examination of an officer who does not produce official evidence of service in steamships, and of experience of engines, must necessarily be more searching than in the case of one who produces evidence of such service and experience.

The answers to the questions in Engineering Knowledge are frequently given by candidates as learned by rote from a book. Candidates should, therefore, be asked such viva voce questions as will necessitate answers in different words, so as to discover whether they have the root of the matter in them.

A large part of the viva voce examination should be conducted on board a steamer, preferably one with which the candidate is unacquainted. He should be told to look about and try to find out the arrangement of the machinery without assistance, and the Examiner should be in the engine-room to see that this independent examination is properly carried out. When the candidate reports that he thinks he knows the arrangement the Examiner will question him on the uses of the parts, get him to point out the different cylinders, pumps, valves, condenser, etc.; also the dynamo, its field magnets, armature, commutators, brushes, cables, etc. The candidate must show that he understands the run of the pipes in the bilges, not necessarily that he has gone over every one of them, but he ought to be directed to trace, at least, one important range of pipes, and thoroughly to satisfy the Examiner that he could be safely trusted to manipulate the valves or cocks in connection therewith. It will not often be practicable for the candidate actually to work engines under steam, but he must satisfy the Examiner that he knows how to do so, and that he is aware of the precautions to be taken in regard to water in the cylinders, etc. It is most important that a candidate should show that, in the event of an accident depriving him of the assistance of Engineers, he knows what to do to take his vessel safely to an anchorage, or to stop the engines and proceed under sail alone.

The examination of a Mate in steam is the same as that of a Master. The knowledge required has no reference to the Mate's position.

A Mate may be examined, but such examination implies that the Mate may one day be a Master, when the possession of the knowledge will, possibly, be an advantage to him in the discharge of his duties.

The admission to this class is regulated by the Director-General, Indian Medical Service.

(a) "Regular Class" is the Pass certificate of the I. Sc. Examination of the Calcutta University with Physics and Chemistry or any Examination equivalent to it.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office, on or before the 25th May, except in the case of Biharis, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe. Students who come out of the Dacca and the Rangoon Universities and the candidates from the Central Provinces should apply to the Director of Public Instruction of the respective Provinces.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list :—

	Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20	0
Fees for Summer term	62	8
Athletic Club fee	2	0
Total ...	84	8

5. The number of Regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications, but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted shall be Muhammadans. Twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa, one by the Government of Central Provinces and six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam, six candidates of the Dacca University by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and two of the Rangoon University by the Director of Public Instruction, Burma. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a). In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who must have passed the I. Sc. Examination with Physics and Chemistry. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to the College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fee within a week from the date of the publication of their results, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

8. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual athletic club fee of Rs. 2 along with their fees for Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the athletic club fee.

11. Students relegated to a further course of study after their failure at the Preliminary Scientific M. B. and at the First M. B. Examinations shall pay Rs. 80 for the whole session in one instalment within the time prescribed above.

12. Students who fail at the Final M. B. Examination shall pay fees for the whole session at the following rates in one instalment by the 1st June :—

14. The fees for Casual students or for certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 14 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragragh 14 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that terms is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

3. The session commences on the 15th June.

4. All new students must apply for admission to the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, in the prescribed form available in this office, on or before the 25th May, except in the case of Biharis, Uriyas, Chota Nagpuris and Assamese students, who should apply to the Inspectors-General of Civil Hospitals of their respective provinces for admission within such date as the latter may prescribe. Students who come out of the Dacca and the Rangoon Universities and the candidates from the Central Provinces should apply to the Director of Public Instruction of the respective Provinces.

Selected candidates must pay the following fees within the time prescribed by the Principal, failing which their names will be struck off the selected list:—

	Rs.	A.
Admission fee	20	0
Fees for Summer term	62	8
Athletic Club fee	2	0
Total ...	84	8

5. The number of Regular students to be admitted each year is generally 120, but the Principal may, at his discretion, increase or decrease this number. Preference for admission will usually be given to candidates who have superior qualifications, but the final selection lies entirely with the Principal.

One-fourth of the total number to be admitted shall be Muhammadans. Twelve candidates will be nominated by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Bihar and Orissa, one by the Government of Central Provinces and six candidates by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals of Assam, six candidates of the Dacca University by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, and two of the Rangoon University by the Director of Public Instruction, Burma. These candidates must possess the qualifications mentioned in rule 2 (a). In addition, the Bihar and Orissa Government will nominate six scholars, who must have passed the I. Sc. Examination with Physics and Chemistry. These nominations must reach the Principal, Medical College, Calcutta, before the 10th June in each year, failing which the Principal will fill up vacancies with local candidates.

6. (a) Female students will be admitted to the College provided they possess the requisite preliminary qualification, and provided there is a vacancy in the Surnomoyee Hostel in which all female students must reside.

(b) Female students belonging to provinces other than Bengal will have to pay rents for their seats in the Surnomoyee Hostel.

7. Failed students must apply for admission and pay fee within a week from the date of the publication of their results, otherwise their prior claim lapses.

8. All Regular students must pay an annual fee of Rs. 125 in two instalments, viz., Rs. 62-8 for the Summer term and Rs. 62-8 for the Winter term. They must also pay the annual athletic club fee of Rs. 2 along with their fees for Summer term. Fees once paid cannot be refunded.

9. The fees for each term are to be paid in one instalment. Except in the case of new students, the fees for Summer term are due on the 15th June and those for the Winter term on the 1st November, and must be paid on those dates or on such subsequent dates as the Principal may direct, after which a daily fine of annas 4 will be levied along with the fee in each case of default.

10. Female students are not liable to pay the athletic club fee.

11. Students relegated to a further course of study after their failure at the Preliminary Scientific M. B. and at the First M. B. Examinations shall pay Rs. 80 for the whole session in one instalment within the time prescribed above.

13. Students taking up subjects outside the curriculum of the year in which they are studying shall pay Rs. 30 for each subject, including lectures and practical classes.

14. The fees for Casual students or for certificates issued to Regular students leaving the College before completing their study, or for those issued to Military students, shall be Rs. 40 per each course of lectures and practical classes and Rs. 30 for every three months of hospital practice.

15. In calculating the sum to be paid under rule 14 by a Regular student, the amount of College fees paid by him, or in the case of a student enjoying a stipendiary scholarship and free tuition, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student shall be deducted.

16. The fees payable by a Muhammadan student requiring certificates in the same way will be calculated on the same principle, i.e., he will be allowed a deduction for the full annual fee, half of which has been paid by himself and half by the Mohsin Fund.

17. Students of the Military class requiring certificates in the same way will be required to pay the rate of fees laid down in paragragh 14 for the full curriculum or for such portion as they have attended. No deduction will be made in this case as they are not free students in the sense in which that terms is defined in Bengal Government Resolution (Education) No. 601 of the 7th December 1880.

18. The fee for post-graduate students undergoing a course of training in the Pathological, Bacteriological, Physiological or Chemical Laboratory is Rs. 90 for a period not exceeding six months.

19. Holders of scholarships, awarded by the Government of Bengal are not required to pay the annual fee of Rs. 125 for the year in which they hold such scholarships. 23. Holders of the College scholarships, any other Government scholarships or Trust Fund scholarships administered by Government are not eligible for the Durga Charan Laha Scholarship. Similarly, a student already holding a scholarship, either on the result of the University Examination or granted by Government, is not eligible to compete for the College scholarships.

24. Regular students, who at any time are referred for a second year of study in all the subjects of one curriculum, are thereby rendered ineligible for any of the stipendiary scholarships awarded by the Government of Bengal. Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, Report of Select Committees presented or to be presented in that Council, and Bills published before introduction in that Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1118L., dated the 12th May, 1923.—The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Aerial Ropeways Bill, 1923 (with the Bill, as amended by the Committee), is hereby published for general information :—

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE BENGAL AERIAL ROPEWAYS BILL, 1923.

We, the undersigned members of the Select Committee, to which the Bill to authorize, facilitate and regulate the construction and working of aerial ropeways in Bengal was referred, have considered the Bill and have the honour to submit this our report with the Bill, as amended by us, annexed hereto. In reprinting the Bill all changes made by us have, so far as possible, been underlined.

2. We have no remarks to make on the first five clauses of the Bill.

Clause 6, sub-clause (2).—We think that provision should be made in sub-clause (2) of clause 6 that the time allowed for submission of objections to draft orders should not be less than two months from the date of the publication of the draft order. It is undesirable that a draft project should be held up longer. At the same time this period will give ample opportunity to persons affected to put in their representations.

Sub-clause (4) (vii).—We have considered the necessity of providing against damage by aerial ropeways to underground workings in mining areas. These ropeways will frequently pass over mining properties and it is just that a promoter, if he wishes to place his line in such manner that it will interfere with the getting of minerals in such areas, shall either compensate the person working such minerals for the loss so occasioned or shall divert his line when it begins to interfere with the working of the minerals. We do not consider that it is necessary to make the Bill cumbrous with the details of compensation or arrangements for diversion in such exceptional cases. Such details are best left to rules which can be modified from time to time by the Local Government in the light of experience.

Clause 7.—We have made a slight drafting amendment in sub-clause (1) of this clause.

Clause 11, sub-clause (1).—We have considered the position of Inspectors of Aerial Ropeways. It is possible that at first it may be necessary to combine with other provinces in obtaining the services of qualified Inspectors. The members of the Committee who have had personal experience of the working of these ropeways have pointed out that this is a highly technical subject and that no one is competent to act as an Inspector of these ropeways unless he has very special knowledge. The number of persons in India with that special knowledge is limited. The services of the Inspector should be paid for to some extent by the promoters and we have therefore left it to the Local Government to fix a scale of fees accordingly.

We have no changes to make in clauses 12 to 20.

Clause 21.—With reference to this clause, we regard the procedure for closing an aerial ropeway as liable to misapplication unless very skilled agency is employed in the work of inspection, and owing to the difficulty of obtaining the services of such agency in urgent cases we consider that in addition to the safeguards which we propose in the new clause 40A there should be some provision for enquiry by expert authority if the Local Government think this necessary before a definite order for closing an aerial ropeway is issued. We have provided for this in sub-clause (1) of this clause. In sub-clause (2) we have given the Government power to frame rules in regard to the re-opening of an aerial ropeway which has been closed, so as to enable an elastic procedure to be adopted in cases where defects have been remedied and the promoter asks for an immediate expert enquiry to enable him to resume business.

Clause 30.—The same difficulty in regard to the stoppage of getting coal or other minerals as is already alluded to with reference to sub-clause (4) of clause 6 may arise in cases of temporary occupation of land. In such a case persons engaged in mining are entitled to additional relief and we have provided for this.

Clause 40.—We have inserted sub-clause (j) of clause 31 so as to complete the reference to clause 37, the breach of which must carry with it a penalty, and also the new sub-clauses (dd), (l) and (m) of clause 41*(2)* among the provisions to be applied to private aerial ropeways.

Clause 40A.—We consider that in a highly technical matter of this kind it is necessary that there should be an Advisory Board, to whom Government may be compelled to refer in case of the refusal to sanction a ropeway or in case of the grant of sanction to a ropeway or of an order to close a ropeway. This Board should consist of a Chief Engineer and two expert officers and we have provided for an application for revision of the orders passed in any of these cases being made by the persons affected to the Local Government. The Local Government will then lay the matter before the Advisory Board and will consider the opinion of the Advisory Board before passing orders in revision. Provisions as to the procedure of the Advisory Board have also been inserted in clause 40A, the drafting of which in the main is based on that of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910.

Clause 41.—We have in sub-clause (ia) set out the details in regard to the protection which should be afforded to mining properties over which aerial ropeways pass. We have also provided [in sub-clauses (dd), (l) and (m)] for fees, for procedure in revision and for procedure in respect of the re-opening of an aerial ropeway which has been closed.

3. The Bill was published in English in the Calcutta Gazette of the 21st March, 1923.

4. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered as to require re-publication.

5. We recommend that the Bill, as amended by us, be passed.

Paragraph 403 of the Retrenchment Committee's Report, 1923.

IN paragraph 7 of the Resolution of 1901 referred to in the preamble, orders were issued permitting heads of offices, subject to the control of their superior officers, to grant a holiday on the last Saturday of the month, provided the state of office work permitted of this being done. And whereas no man can be forejudged of life or limb, or subjected in time of peace to any kind of punishment within this realm, by martial law, or in any other manner than by the judgment of his peers and according to the known and established laws of this realm ; yet, nevertheless, it being requisite, for the retaining all the before-mentioned forces, and other persons subject to military law or to the Air Force Act, in their duty, that an exact discipline be observed and that persons belonging to the said forces who mutiny or stir up sedition, or desert His Majesty's service, or are guilty of crimes and offences to the prejudice of good order and military or air force discipline, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law will allow :

The following resolution issued by the Government of India in the Finance Department, published in the Gazette of India, dated the 2nd June 1923, is republished for general information.

L. BIRLEY,
Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION.

Simla, the 29th May 1923.

No. 854-C.S.R.—The Government of India have had under consideration the question of reductions in travelling allowance in consequence of the increase in passenger fares on railways and of the general increase in rates of pay of Government servants. In paragraph 11 on page 284 of their report, the Retrenchment Committee have also recommended, as a measure of economy, the raising of the limits of pay adopted for classification of officers in the supplementary rules and the alteration of the rule which allowed to officers of the first three grades for incidental expenses an additional fare of the class in which they are entitled to accommodation. The Government of India have, after careful consideration of the recommendations of the Committee, decided to amend the supplementary rules as follows with effect from 1st June 1923. The special classification under Appendix 18, Civil Service Regulations, and the special higher rates of daily allowance under Appendix 25, Civil Service Regulations, will continue in force so far as officers whose pay is debitable to Central Revenues and who are not under the administrative control of a Governor in Council acting as the agent of the Governor General in Council are concerned.

For rule 17 substitute "For the purpose of calculating travelling allowance, Government servants are divided into four grades as follows :—

(a) The first grade includes officers of the services included in the accompanying schedule and all other officers of Government in receipt of actual pay exceeding Rs. 750.

(b) The second grade includes all Government servants in receipt of actual pay exceeding Rs. 200 but not exceeding Rs. 750.

(c) The third grade includes all other Government servants in superior service, except police constables and forest guards.

(d) The fourth grade includes police constables, forest guards, and all Government servants in inferior service."

For rule 34 (c) (ii) (2) substitute " Where there are three classes second class, if his pay is not less than Rs. 100 and third class if it is less than Rs. 100.

For rule 36 substitute "Except in the case of journeys on transfer (the rules about which are contained in section XI) and journeys of Government servants required to accompany the headquarters of the Government of India (which are governed by the Simla Allowances Code), the mileage allowance admissible to a Government servant of of the first, second, or third grade is 1⅗ the fare of the class in which he is entitled to accommodation. The mileage allowance admissible to a Government servant of the fourth grade is the fare of the lowest class, except for journeys under the Simla Allowances Code."

In rule 37, line 13, for 'Rs. 50' substitute 'Rs. 100.'

For rule 41 substitute "Except in the case of journeys on transfer (the rules about which are contained in section XI), the mileage allowance admissible to a Government servant of the first, second or third grade is 1⅗ the fare of the class in which he is entitled to accommodation. The mileage allowance admissible to a Government servant of the fourth grade is the fare of the lowest class.

In cases where the steamer company has two rates of fare, one inclusive and one exclusive of diet, the word 'fare' in this rule should be held to mean fare exclusive of diet."

For rule 46 (b) substitute "When a Government servant travels within the territories administered by a local Government which has fixed special rates for Government servants under its administrative control, he must draw mileage allowance at the rate fixed for a Government servant drawing the same pay in those territories, and when he travels within the jurisdiction of the following minor administrations, his mileage allowance will be at the rate fixed for a Government servant drawing the same pay in the province noted opposite :—

Chief Commissioner and Agent to the Governor-General, North-West Frontier Province	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner and Agent to the Governor-General, Baluchistan	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner, Delhi	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner, Ajmere Merwara, and Agent to the Governor-General, Rajputana	Punjab.
Agent to the Governor-General, Central India	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner, Coorg, and Resident, Mysore	Madras.
Resident, Hyderabad	Madras."

For rule 51 (a) (ii) substitute "A Government servant of the second grade—annas for every Rs. 25 or fraction of Rs. 25 subject, in the case of officers drawing not more than Rs. 500, to a maximum of Rs. 3. The daily allowance for officers drawing pay exceeding Rs 500 but not exceeding Rs. 750 is Rs. 4."

For rule 51 (b) substitute "When a Government servant travels within the territories administered by a local Government which has fixed special rates for Government servants under its administrative control, he must draw daily allowance at the rate fixed for a Government servant drawing the same pay in those territories, and when he travels within the jurisdiction of the following minor administrations, his daily allowance will be at the rate fixed for a Government servant drawing the same pay in the province noted opposite :—

Chief Commissioner and Agent to the Governor General, North-West Frontier Province	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner and Agent to the Governor General, Baluchistan...	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner, Delhi	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner, Ajmere-Merwara and Agent to the Governor General, Rajputana	Punjab.
Agent to the Governor General, Central India	Punjab.
Chief Commissioner, Coorg, and Resident, Mysore	Madras.
Resident, Hyderabad	Madras.

Add as Rule 51 (c).—For Government servants detained on duty in the presidency towns in Bombay and Calcutta the rate of daily allowance will be double the rates admissible under clause (a).

Insert as Rule 76A.—As a partial exception to Rule 76, in the case of halts on tour the daily allowance ordinarily admissible under these rules may be drawn in addition to the mileage allowance on the day of arrival at the place of halt if the Government servant arrives before noon and on the day of departure if he leaves after noon, provided that when the day of arrival and the day of departure are consecutive daily allowance can be drawn for one day only on these conditions.

Rule 101.—For the words "one first class fare" at the end of this rule substitute "⅞ths first class fare."

Rule 116 (a).—Omit "in addition to that prescribed by rule 115" at the end.

For I (i) substitute "He may draw three fares of the class to which his grade entitles him."

In II (i) before the words "he may draw" insert "in addition to the mileage admissible during journeys on tour."

Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

2. Insert the following after Rule 6, Chapter VI, at page 161, ibid :—

6A (1). In the province of Bengal for the purpose of computing the expenses which a party applying for a summons shall be required to deposit in Court, witnesses shall be divided into two classes, namely :—

(a) labourers and ordinary cultivators and other persons of similar class, and

(b) persons of better position :

and the allowance shall ordinarily be a diet allowance.

(2) Such allowance shall be calculated for each class at the daily rates indicated below opposite the territorial description of the Court in which the witness appears.

Explanation.—The rates indicated in this rule are maxima and are intended to meet the cost of one day's meals. In every case, therefore, the Court should consider the circumstances of the individual and the local conditions, and permit the deposit of a reduced allowance where the actual expenses are likely to fall short of the maximum rates.

(3) In the case of a witness performing the journey or part of the journey by rail, steamer or tram, his actual fare each way according to the class by which persons of his rank and station in life would ordinarily travel, should, in addition to the prescribed diet allowance, be deposited in Court in accordance with the following provisions. Amendment of section 37. 4. To section 37 of the said Act the following shall be added, namely:—

"(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, a Juvenile Court established for the suburbs of Calcutta, as defined by notification under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866, or a Magistrate of the district of the 24-Parganas exercising powers under this Act, may inquire into and try in such place within Calcutta as the Local Government may direct the case of any child or young person who is accused of committing any offence within those suburbs, and such inquiry or trial shall for the purposes of jurisdiction be deemed to be held in the suburbs of Calcutta as so defined.

Any such accused person may be detained, pending trial or on conviction, in any place in Calcutta, which is set apart, under the provisions of this Act or the rules made thereunder, for the reception of children or young persons."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bengal Children Act, 1922, has not yet been extended to the town and port of Calcutta, the suburbs of Calcutta and Howrah, partly owing to the difficulty of obtaining certified industrial schools and partly owing to the financial stringency. There are in Calcutta already a Juvenile remand home and a Juvenile Court in which there is accommodation sufficient to provide for the requirements both of Calcutta and its suburbs, but the Government have been advised that under section 37, as at present framed, it would not be legal in view of section 177 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for the Magistrates of the suburbs, when trying offences arising within their jurisdiction, to sit in that Court, as it is outside their jurisdiction. To avoid, therefore, the large expense which would be necessary in order to create a separate Court and a remand home in the suburbs, it is proposed to take power to permit Magistrates to try within Calcutta cases against children and young persons for offences alleged to have been committed in the suburbs, such trials to be deemed to be trials in the suburbs.

2. There are some clauses in the Act which create offences against children and which will be tried by the ordinary Courts. These could be introduced at once. Other clauses give statutory powers to Probation Officers and provide for placing children and young persons in suitable custody, and these provisions also might be brought in at once. Owing to the difficulty, however, of providing or certifying industrial schools for different communities in Calcutta, it is not possible at present to permit orders to be passed sending children to industrial schools. A house for a Court and remand home has not yet been found in Howrah, and there may have to be delay in extending the Act to it. The Bill therefore provides that different parts of the Act may be brought into force on different dates for different areas, and that orders of detention in industrial schools shall not be passed in respect of any child, unless there is any industrial school certified with suitable accommodation. It is hoped that the different communities will come forward to assist Government on behalf of unfortunate children of their communities by opening industrial schools with Government aid, and thus enable Government to bring the industrial school system fully into force at an early date.

THE BENGAL TENANCY (UTBANDI AMENDMENT) BILL, 1923.

to supplement and amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, in order to provide means whereby a uniform annual money rent may be fixed for lands held under the custom of Utbandi and to make further provision in respect of such lands.

Preamble

WHEREAS it is expedient to supplement and amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, in order to provide means whereby a uniform annual money-rent may be fixed for lands held under the custom of utbandi, and to make such other provisions as hereinafter appear in respect of lands for which a uniform annual rent has been so fixed;

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General under sub-section (3) of section 80A of the Government of India Act has been obtained to the passing of this Act;

5 & 6 Geo V., c. 61; 6 & 7 Geo. V., c. 37; 9 & 10 Geo. V., c. 101.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Utbandi Amendment) Act, 1923.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

Insertion of new sections 180A and 180B in Act VIII of 1885.

2. After section 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"180A. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 180 when a raiyat holds or has held land under the custom of utbandi, either the landlord or the raiyat may apply to have a uniform annual rent determined for the land.

Fixing of uniform annual rent in respect of utbandi lands.

(2) The application shall include at the discretion of the applicant either—

(a) all the lands held under the custom of utbandi by the same tenant under the same landlord in which the tenant has acquired a right of occupancy whether under the provisions of section 180 or otherwise, or

(b) all the lands held under the same landlord by the tenant which the tenant has cultivated under the custom of utbandi at any time during the preceding period of six years if he is the last person to have cultivated the land and has not acquired occupancy rights therein, or

(c) both.

(Clause 2.)

(3) The application may be made to the Collector or to a Subdivisional Officer or to a Revenue Officer appointed by the Local Government under the designation of Settlement Officer or Assistant Settlement Officer for the purpose of making a survey and record-of-rights under Chapter X or to any other officer specially authorised by the Local Government.

(4) The case may be determined by the officer who receives the application, or the Collector or the Settlement Officer may transfer it for disposal to some other officer competent under sub-section (3) to receive applications.

(5) The officer receiving the application or the officer to whom the case is transferred as the case may be shall cause notice to be given in the prescribed manner to the opposite party, and shall fix a date for the determination of the case.

(6) If the application refers to lands in which the tenant has not acquired occupancy rights, the officer may reject it in whole or in part in respect of such lands, if he is satisfied in view of all the circumstances of the case that it is unreasonable to grant it:

Provided that a refusal shall be no bar to proceedings being again taken under this section after five years from the date of refusal if circumstances have in the meantime changed.

(7) If the application is not wholly rejected, the officer shall then determine the sum to be paid as a uniform annual rent, and also in the case of lands in which the tenant has not acquired occupancy rights, a premium to be paid to the landlord, and he shall order that the tenant shall, in lieu of paying the rent under the custom of utbandi, pay the sum so determined and the premium, if any.

(8) In making the determination of the sum to be paid as rent, the officer shall have regard to—

(a) the average money rent payable by occupancy raiyats for land of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity;

(b) the average of the rents actually paid or payable to the landlord on account of the lands during the previous six years or during any shorter period for which evidence may be available;

(c) the rates for lands of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity held under the custom of utbandi;

(Clause 2.)

(d) the rent payable for lands of a similar description and with similar advantages in the vicinity by raiyats who formerly paid their rent for those lands under the custom of utbandi but whose rents have been converted into uniform annual rents whether under this section or by agreement or otherwise ;

(e) the charges incurred by the landlord in respect of irrigation under the custom of utbandi and the arrangements made on settlement of the uniform annual rent for continuing those charges ;

(f) the rules laid down in this Act for the guidance of the Civil Courts in enhancing or reducing rents on account of the holdings of occupancy raiyats ;

(g) any sum agreed to by the parties to be paid as money rent :

Provided that the officer shall in no case determine a rent which is unfair or inequitable.

(9) The premium to be paid to the landlord in the case of lands in which the tenant has not acquired occupancy rights shall be three times the rent, or if the application is made under sub-clause (c) of sub-section (2), three times the portion of the rent determined under sub-section (7) on account of such lands :

Provided that the determining officer may, on the application of the tenant, if he considers that it is a hardship to the tenant to pay a premium, commute the same by ordering that, in lieu of the payment of a premium, the uniform annual rent or portion of the rent, as the case may be, on account of the lands in respect of which the premium was so payable, be increased by a sum equal to 20 per cent. of such rent or portion of rent.

(10) The order shall be in writing, shall state the grounds on which it is made, and shall, in the absence of any special reasons to the contrary recorded in writing, take effect from the beginning of the agricultural year next after the date on which it is made.

(11) The officer may, on the application of the tenant, order that the premium shall be paid by instalments not exceeding three in number, that the first instalment shall be paid at the beginning of the agricultural year in which the rent settled under sub-section (7) takes effect and that one of remaining instalments shall be paid at the beginning of each of the succeeding agricultural years until the premium is paid in full.

(12) The premium or the instalments thereof shall be payable and recoverable as rent, but interest shall only be awarded in respect of such instalments as are not paid by the date fixed under sub-section (11).

(13) The order shall be subject to appeal in the manner provided in section 109A, unless the application has been made in the course of proceedings under Part II of Chapter X, in which case the provisions of sections 104G and 104H shall apply.

(14) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Act or in any other law, no suit shall be brought or application made in any court in respect of any order passed under this section, save as is provided in this section.

Lands in respect of which a uniform annual rent has been fixed under section 180A to cease to be utbandi lands.

"180B. Whenever an order under section 180A is passed determining a uniform annual rent for any lands, such lands shall cease to be deemed to be held under the custom of utbandi with effect from the date from which the new rent takes effect, and the tenant shall hold them as an occupancy raiyat from the date of the order.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The utbandi tenancy is a peculiar tenancy, mainly confined to the districts of Nadia and Murshidabad. It is not governed by the ordinary law of landlord and tenant but by section 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, which retards the acquisition of occupancy rights and restricts the application of ordinary raiyati rights, in any part of the country where the custom of utbandi prevails, in lands ordinarily let out under that custom and for the time being let out under that custom. The tenancy has been described as follows: "The holding is not fixed either in area or in position but consists of a variable parcel or parcels of lands ascertained by a measurement or inspection made at least once a year. The rent is fixed for each year or season in respect of the parcel or parcels of land which has been ascertained by the said measurement or inspection to have been during the year or season in question in the cultivation of the raiyat". The system has, however, now largely developed in practice into a species of settled cultivation, in which it is undesirable to restrict the acquisition of ordinary raiyati rights or to retard the acquisition of occupancy rights. A change in the law is therefore called for, and the Committee who were appointed by Government in 1921 to consider the amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, recommended that the law should be so modified as to enable utbandi tenancies to be converted into ordinary raiyati holdings by the commutation of utbandi rents into ordinary raiyati rents somewhat on the lines of section 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. In view also of the fact that the utbandi problem is a local one, affecting portions of a few districts only and having little connection with the main principles underlying the general Amendment Bill proposed by them, they recommended that the matter should be dealt with by separate legislation. The present Bill has accordingly been drafted separately on the basis of section 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The notes on clause 2 explain any material departure from that section.

Notes on clause 2.

Section 180A(2).—This deals with the lands which can or must be included in the application for conversion of the utbandi rents. It makes provision for the inclusion of lands in which occupancy rights have accrued separately from those in which they have not accrued, because in the second case it may not be equitable to determine any ordinary uniform rent at all, whilst there is no reason in the first case why any application for conversion should be refused. It has also been provided that, in the case of lands in which the raiyat has not acquired occupancy rights, all those lands which the raiyat has cultivated under the same landlord under the custom of utbandi at any time during the preceding period of six years, if he is the last person to have cultivated the lands, must be included in the application. This is intended to save the landlord from having the worst lands thrown on his hands by the tenant making a selection only of the best lands he has cultivated during a cycle of cultivation.

Section 180A(4).—This provides for the transfer of the application to another officer for disposal.

Section 180A(5).—This provides for the initial procedure in dealing with the application. It is expected that most applications will be heard locally.

Section 180A(6).—This proposed sub-section provides for the differential treatment of applications relating to lands in which the raiyat has not acquired occupancy rights referred to in the note under proposed sub-section 180A(2).

Section 180A(7).—This proposed sub-section introduces the payment of a premium for conversion in the case of lands in which the raiyat has not acquired occupancy rights. This is warranted by the proposal that under section 180B he should obtain occupancy rights in such lands.

Section 180A (8).—This sub-section deals with the considerations to which the officer determining the sum to be paid as rent shall have regard on the lines of section 40 of the Act. It is also proposed under section 180A (8) (d) that other rents which have been converted into uniform annual rents should be taken into consideration. Further, in view of the fact that utbandi rents are money-rents, and not the produce-rents contemplated by section 40, it is proposed in sub-section 180A (8) (f) that regard should be had to the rules laid down in this Act for the guidance of the civil courts in enhancing or reducing rents on account of the holdings of occupancy raiyats. Proposed sub-section 180A (8) (g) provides that any sum agreed to by the parties to be paid as money-rent should be taken into consideration.

Section 180A (9).—It is proposed, in order to simplify the procedure, that the premium should be a fixed multiple of the rent. For the present three times the rent has been inserted in the Bill. As, however, the compulsory payment of a premium might prevent raiyats applying for conversion, it is proposed, where it would be a hardship on the tenant to pay a premium, that he should in lieu thereof pay an additional sum of 20 per cent. to be added to the rent determined for the land in which he has not acquired occupancy rights.

Section 180A (11).—For similar reasons it is proposed that the premium should be made payable in instalments not exceeding three.

Section 180A (12).—This sub-section makes the premium payable and recoverable as rent.

Section 180A (13).—This sub-section provides for appeals.

Section 180A (14).—This prevents the proceedings under this section being upset in any way, except as provided by the section.

Section 180B.—It is proposed that when an utbandi rent has been converted into a uniform annual rent for any lands, such lands should cease to be deemed to be held under the custom of utbandi, and the raiyat should hold them as an occupancy raiyat.

No. 1863L., dated the 23rd June, 1923.—His Excellency the Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 18 of the Bengal Legislative Council Rules, 1920, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information. It is proposed to introduce and pass the Bill at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council commencing on the 2nd July, 1923 :—

THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1923.

further to amend the Bengal Smoke-Nuisances Act, 1905.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Smoke-Nuisances Act, 1905, in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act III of 1905.

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General under sub-section (3) of section 80A of the Government of India Act has been obtained to the passing of this Act; 5 & 6, Geo. V, c. 61; 6 & 7, Geo. V, c. 37; 9 & 10, Geo V, c. 101.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Smoke-Nuisances (Amendment) Act, 1923.

Amendment of sections 6 and 7 of Bengal Act III of 1905.

2. (1) To clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 6 of the Bengal Smoke-Nuisances Act, 1905, as amended by subsequent legislation (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), the words "clamps for making bricks, or" shall be added.

(2) In sub-section (2) of section 6 and in three places in section 7 of the said Act after the word "kiln" the word "clamp" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 10.

3. In sub-section (2) of section 10 of the said Act—

(a) the word "and" at the end of clause (j) shall be omitted; and

(b) after clause (j) the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"(jj) prescribe a scale of fees for the examination and approval of plans, the inspection and testing, and the grant of permission for the working of furnaces, flues and chimneys and generally for the services of Inspectors; and."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is introduced to carry into effect the second recommendation of paragraph 335 of the Report of the Bengal Retrenchment Committee with regard to the Smoke-Nuisances Commission, which is "We also think that fees should be charged for the passing of plans of installations, for testing these, and also for giving advice."

The existing Act does not permit the levying of such fees, and by the present amendment it is proposed to enable Government to prescribe a scale of fees for the purposes enumerated in the section.

Advantage has also been taken of this occasion to introduce another small amendment in section 6 (1)(a) of the Act. Under a recent ruling of the High Court a "kiln" does not include a "clamp." It is therefore proposed to make the Act complete by introducing the words "clamps for making bricks" after the word "lime-kilns" in section 6 (1)(a) with consequential amendments in 6 (2) and section 7.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF JAIL DEPARTMENT IN THE PRESIDENCY OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1922.

DATED CALCUTTA, THE 23RD JUNE 1923.

RESOLUTION—No. 4577 J.-R.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of Jail Department in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1922.

READ ALSO—

The Reports for the years 1921 and 1920 and the resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

The total number of prisoners admitted in the jails in this Presidency during the year was 84,985 or 1,619 more than in 1921, and the daily average number was 15,219·98 against 14,660·83 in the previous year. The increase was due to the admission of a large number of prisoners who had been convicted of offences in connection with the non-co-operation movement. This was the outstanding feature of the year. Endeavours were made by the non-co-operators to overwhelm Government by forcing them to stop taking action against the non-co-operators; and in order to show that Government were prepared to carry out the law, steps were taken by Government to construct or open temporary additional jails to cope with the threatened increase in numbers. On the 1st January 1922, the numbers of such prisoners stood at 3,617, but fortunately they did not increase. Only the temporary jail which had been opened at Kidderpore at the end of the previous year was actually required, though one was constructed at Kanchrapara and the European Ward of the Mental Hospital at Berhampur was temporarily converted into a special jail for female prisoners in case of conviction. By the 30th December the numbers had fallen to 162. This was due not only to the expiry of the active phase of the movement and of sentences in the ordinary course, but also to the clemency of Government in the remission of sentences.

At first, owing to the large influx into the jails of better class non-co-operation prisoners, temporary rules were issued creating a special class for prisoners possessing a better education and higher social status and with a higher standard of living than the ordinary convict without regard to their character or the character of their offence. This classification, was, however, too wide. Subsequently, these rules were superseded by revised rules prescribing differential treatment for a more restricted class of prisoners certified by Government to be special class prisoners on account not only of their status and education but also of their character and the character of their offence. The district jail at Berhampore has now been set aside for the accommodation of such prisoners.

2. The presence of these prisoners and the differential treatment accorded to them resulted inside the jails in a general deterioration of the standard of discipline amongst the ordinary convicts. Outside the jails their imprisonment aroused an unusual amount of public interest in the jail administration. Many garbled and unwarranted accounts of alleged harsh treatment towards non-co-operation prisoners that were published in newspapers excited undue sympathy which reflected itself inside the jails in an attempt to upset discipline and to make the administration of the jails impossible. Public criticism reached its height in a lengthy and exacerbated discussion in the Legislative Council in August on the whipping which had to be inflicted on certain prisoners in the Barisal Jail for grave and persistent breaches of discipline. The spirit of insubordination among the dangerous characters confined in the Presidency Jail culminated in open mutiny on two occasions, once on the 26th April and again on the 1st October 1922. On the first occasion the prisoners mutinied in the mistaken belief that a Muhammadan ordinary convict, who was missing from his file at roll call in the early morning, and had actually been assaulted by a head warder, had been assaulted whilst at prayers. The second outbreak arose from the circulation in the jail of a false rumour that one of the convicts was being tortured in the jail hospital. The incidents of both the outbreaks have already been dealt with in this Government's resolutions Nos. 7420R.J. and 589T.R., dated the 8th August and 10th October 1922, respectively. As a result of the subsequent investigations six convicts who were ringleaders in the first outbreak were judicially prosecuted. One of them was sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for two years, three for 18 months and two for one year. The other prisoners who took an active part in both the outbreaks were dealt with under the Jail Code rules. Of 45 loyal prisoners who rendered good service, eight were released and thirty-seven were granted liberal remissions of their sentences. Those of the warder staff who rendered conspicuous service in the first outbreak have been suitably rewarded; and the offending head warder was punished.

Two other effects must be noted of the presence of these non-co-operation prisoners. The first is that the disorganisation caused by such a large influx affected the earnings from jail industries adversely; whilst the second is that apart from the extra expenditure on buildings, the major portion of the extra cost of guarding and maintaining prisoners, Rs. 3,49,462, over that of the previous year was due to the special diet, clothing and bedding of special class prisoners. It is not out of place to remark in these days of retrenchment that the efforts of the non-co-operators resulted in an extra expenditure of public revenues during the year of roughly seven lakhs altogether on the administration of jails.

3. During the year a certain amount of progress was made in giving effect to such of the recommendations of the Indian Jails Committee as could be adopted without any or much additional expense. These are catalogued in paragraph 3 of the report. Owing to the financial condition of the province many recommendations of the Committee have had to be accepted in principle only; and their practical materialisation has been left to better days.

On the report of a special committee appointed to advise Government as to the religious needs of the different communities in jails, rules have, since the close of the year, been inserted in the Jail Code regarding the religious observances of Hindu and Muhammadan prisoners in jails in this Presidency and other minor matters connected therewith. Provision has also been made for granting holidays to Hindu and Muhammadan prisoners on the occasion of their principal religious festivals.

4. The Inspector-General of Prisons has again drawn attention to the overcrowded state of many jails for part of the year. Closely connected with the necessity for additional accommodation is that of segregating first offenders and persons charged with petty offences from habituals and grave offenders both in the convict and under-trial wards, a necessity which has been strongly urged by the Jails Committee. The Committee have also recommended the desirability of concentrating prisoners by the construction of more central jails and the conversion of district jails into sub-jails. These questions are engaging the attention of the Governor in Council, though in the present financial position of the Government of Bengal it is impossible to carry these proposals into effect to any great extent.

5. There was a further increase in the number of prisoners under 16 years, the number being 687 against 348 in 1921. The increase was mainly due to the effect of the non-co-operation movement on young persons. A scheme is under preparation for the establishment of a reformatory school and other industrial schools prescribed by the Bengal Children's Act. The majority of juvenile offenders now in jails will, when the scheme matures, be treated in these schools. The Juvenile Jail continued to do useful work; and the introduction of the star class system shows a gradual diminution in the number of offences committed by the boys. The Calcutta Prisoners' Aid Society is the only institution of the kind which has assisted during the year released boys with employment, etc., in its own workshops and other private firms and families.

6. The large percentage of sentences to short terms of imprisonment is a matter which calls for comment. During the year under review the percentage of sentences not exceeding one month is 31·13, of sentences above one month and not exceeding three months 23·93, and above three months and not exceeding six months 18·21. Thus 73·27 per cent. of the total number of convicts admitted during the year were under sentences not exceeding six months, and out of a total of 5,959 prisoners convicted of thefts 1,585 or above 26 per cent. had sentences not exceeding one month. The question whether it would be feasible to reduce the large number of prisoners with short sentences has been referred to the High Court, Calcutta.

7. In spite of an increase of 559·15 in the daily average population over that of 1921 and the spirit of insubordination the total number of offences dealt with in jails was 16,823 against 16,338, showing an increase of 485 offences only. Minor punishments inflicted were 13,229, inclusive of warning 3,902, and major punishments 3,555 against 12,374, 3,229 and 3,400 in 1921. Whipping was inflicted in 73 cases against 33 in 1921; 53 cases were in connection with the mutinies in the Presidency Jail.

8. The system of accounts in the Presidency, Alipore Central and Juvenile Jails have been examined by the representatives of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse and Company, Chartered Accountants, London, who have recommended a commercialised system of accounting under which a record of the actual times during which convicts are employed on the various industries would be maintained and the labour cost of running them more accurately credited to the jails. The matter is now under the consideration of Government.

9 The sick-rate, 43·0 per mille, showed a satisfactory diminution as compared with the preceding four years. The death-rate, 18·7 per mille, though higher than in 1921, was below that of the preceding three years. There was a marked fall in the death-rate from pulmonary tuberculosis.

10. The administration of prisons in Bengal during the year, conducted as it was under unusual difficulties, reflects credit on the Inspector-General of Prisons; and the thanks of the Governor in Council are due to Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson and Lieutenant Colonel Hamilton for their efficient administration of the department. The superior jail staff had a trying time as they had to cope with a spirit of insubordination inside the jails and to suffer constant criticism from without. His Excellency in Council acknowledges with pleasure the good services of the various officers who have been directly responsible for prison administration during the year and are specially mentioned in the report.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Inspector-General of Prisons, Bengal, for information.

Ordered that a copy of this resolution and a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department.

Ordered also that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

11. Smoking and use of naked lights.—No person shall smoke or use a naked light or shall cause or permit such light to be used in the immediate vicinity of inflammable material in any factory ; and the Manager of every factory shall cause to be exhibited a notice in English and the vernacular prohibiting smoking or the use of naked lights, or both, in all places where they would be dangerous, or where the Inspector may require, and shall take all other reasonable precautions to ensure the observance of this rule.

12. Lighting.—Every part of every factory shall be sufficiently lighted during the whole of the periods employed persons are present in it, either by day or night, to avoid danger arising from imperfect visibility, having due regard to the nature of the place and of the work carried on therein, and to a standard which is approved by the Inspector.

13. Fencing (general).—In every factory, all moving parts of machinery shall be securely fenced, unless they are so situated that they are in the opinion of the Inspector incapable of causing injury to workers. 14. Fencing (electrical).—In every factory, all electrical circuits or parts of such, or any objects electrically connected with them, whether commonly or occasionally in an electrified condition and which by reason of their position could cause injury to the person, shall be protected adequately to the satisfaction of the Inspector either by fencing or insulation, or by both, in such a manner as to remove the danger of injury :

18. Alternatives to fencing.—If in any case it is represented to the Inspector and agreed to by him in writing, that fencing would unduly obstruct a manufacturing process being carried on in the factory, or would be otherwise impracticable, such other protection shall be provided as the Inspector may prescribe instead of fencing.

19. Failure to comply with fencing orders.—If the manager of a factory has not complied with an order to fence or otherwise protect any machinery, after having been requested to do so in writing by an Inspector, the latter may, on a subsequent visit, serve on the manager an order in writing prohibiting the use of the machinery in question, until the orders have been carried out and passed by the Inspector as satisfactory.

PART V.—HEALTH AND SANITATION.

20. Standard of space.—In every factory, there shall be provided for each person employed at one time in any room a breathing space of at least 500 cubic feet. For the purpose of this calculation, no height above 15 feet from the floor of such room shall be taken into consideration.

21. Ventilation.—Every part of every factory where persons are employed shall be adequately ventilated to the approval of the Inspector.

THE GOVERNMENT COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE.

The Day Course.

1. There is a specialized Day Course extending over two years. Candidates who have passed the Matriculation Examination are eligible for admission. Others are admitted, provided they satisfy the Education Department, by passing a preliminary test examination of a similar standard, that they have sufficient general education to enable them to derive advantage from the teaching.

2. Compulsory subjects:—

(a) English (modern), and especially English Correspondence, including Commercial Correspondence, letter-drafting and precis-writing.
(b) Arithmetic, including Commercial and Mental Arithmetic.
(c) An Indian vernacular.
(d) Commercial Geography.
(e) Book-keeping (Junior).

For an Indian vernacular, the Institute provides a thorough training in Bengali. Students taking up any other vernacular are given directions for the examination for which they have to prepare themselves. Anglo-Indian candidates who have passed the Higher Standard examination in an Indian vernacular held by the Inspector of European

Schools, Bengal, or who have passed the Lower standard examination in an Indian vernacular held by the Board of Examiners, will be further examined in the same vernacular in the following manner :—

(1) They will be examined orally to test their command of the vernacular for the ordinary purposes of business.

(2) They will have to translate into English a business letter dictated in the vernacular, and will be examined in both the dictation and translation.

3. Optional Subjects.—Shorthand and Typewriting—(A candidate may take up one or both, according to his option).

A student must take up all the compulsory subjects and must pass in each to obtain the final certificate. Passing in the Optional subjects—Shorthand and Typewriting—is counted towards a prize.

4. Examination.—At the end of the first year's course, an examination is held to determine promotion to the second year class and to decide the award of scholarships. At the end of the two years' course the final examination is held towards the end of the April or the beginning of May. A candidate who fails in one of the five compulsory subjects is not eligible for a pass certificate. A candidate who fails in one subject only in the final examination may appear again in the final examination in the following year in that subject without attending the class. A candidate who fails in only two subjects in the final examination may appear in the final examination in the following year in those subjects, provided that he attends the classes in those subjects.

A candidate who attends a final examination to be examined in a subject in which he has previously failed must pass again in English, if English was not a subject in which he had failed, in order to obtain the diploma.

5. Text-books.—The following text-books are prescribed :—

(a) English—Hooper and Graham's "Home Trade."

(b) Arithmetic—Grant and Hill's "Commercial Arithmetic" and "Mental Arithmetic."

(c) Bengali—"Kapalkundala" by Bankim Chandra Chatterjee, and "Prathamik Babosasinksha" by Santosh Nath Sett.

(d) Geography—"Commercial Geography of the World" by A. J. Herbertson, "A Short Commercial Geography" by L. W. Lyde, "A School Economic Atlas" by J. G. Bartholomew and "A new Geography of the Indian Empire, Burma and Ceylon" by Morrison.

(e) Book-keeping—Arthur Fieldhouse's "Complete Book-keeping."

(f) Shorthand—Pitman's Shorthand Instructor, Centenary edition.

(g) Typewriting—Practical Course in Touch Typewriting by Charles E. Smith.

The text-books cost about Rs. 35.

6. Session and Fees.—The session begins about the end of June and closes about the end of April. The usual summer and Puja vacations are given. The students have to pay an admission fee of Rs. 5 and monthly tuition fee at the rate of Rs. 5 beginning from June. The final examination fee is Rs. 8. Tuition fees are to be paid monthly in advance after admission. Stationery fee of Re. 1 is payable once a year at the beginning of each session by the students who have taken Typewriting as optional subject. A yearly subscription of Re. 1 is also payable at the beginning of each session by students of both the first and second year classes for Athletics and other Institute activities.

7. Attendance.—Strict regularity of attendance is enforced. Students attending less than 75 per cent. of the lectures are debarred from promotion to the second-year class or from appearing at the final examination. Classes are held from 10-30 A.M. to 4 P.M. with half-an-hour's interval daily from 1-30 to 2 P.M. On Saturdays classes are held from 10-30 A.M. to 1-30 P.M.

8. Scholarships and Prizes.—Three scholarships of Rs. 12 each per mensem, tenable for one year are awarded to those students of the first-year class who, amongst those admitted, have secured the highest marks in English at the Matriculation Examination of the Calcutta University. Three scholarships of Rs. 20 each per mensem, tenable for one year, are awarded to those students of the second-year class who obtained the highest total marks at the examination held at the end of the first year's course. Holders of Junior and Senior scholarships at the Matriculation Examination are not eligible for these scholarships. The best two students in the final examination at end of two years' course obtain prizes of Rs. 75 and 50, respectively, offered by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The Remington Typewriter Company present medals to the best three students in typewriting at the final or special examination.

9. Applications for admission must reach the Principal before the 30th June every year. As only a limited number can be enrolled, priority of application is considered.
